The Parish Salutes the Altar Guild for Holy Week!

Pictured here are just four of the many members of the Altar Guild who work tirelessly behind the scene to make sure our church has the right setting for worship.

Holy Week is especially challenging.

Purple for Lent. Red for Palm Sunday. White for Maundy Thursday—but change to purple stoles for the stripping of the Altar. Black and Red for Good Friday. Finally—White for Easter! Thank you Altar Guild!

ALL SAINTS' New Website

Announcing All Saints' New Website

For the past several months, Father Tony and I, and more recently Chris Scharbo, have been working with ShareFaith, a cloud-based digital media platform that allows us to manage our website, media, church management, giving and live-streaming in one place.

It was a monumental project that changed the technology of literally everything we do as a church. We thank the Endowment Board and the Vestry for supporting the cost of this project.

Last week we launched the website, and I would like to share some of the details of what it provides. If you have not done so already, I invite you to visit allsaintsjensenbeach.org and look around.

The primary purpose of any website is to speak to first time visitors. A secondary, yet important, purpose is to support repeat visitors and members as they navigate the site and engage with our church. It is in this latter respect that you will discover many enhancements to our website.

At the top of the Homepage, you will see a red bar with five buttons that link to frequently visited pages on the website. These are the This Sunday, Request a Prayer, Calendar, Cemetery and Contact Us pages.

This Sunday is a completely new page and is where members and visitors can go to gather information about our upcoming Sunday services. There are details about service times and Sunday School, as well as links to the Sunday Bulletin – typically updated on Friday – and to our live-streaming platforms. You

A Message from the Rector

Father Tony asking for admittance to the church
on Palm Sunday

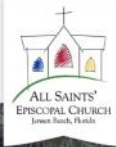

Father Tony is taking a much needed vacation after Easter and Holy Week and the final push to get the new website up and running. Please keep him in your prayers and see the message about the new website he sponsored.

will note that in addition to watching services on our YouTube channel and Facebook page, you can now watch each service directly from the website on the Watch Live page.

One of the primary motivations in switching to ShareFaith's platform is the ability to automate and digitize much of what we currently do manually. So, for example, rather than calling the office to make a prayer request, you can fill in the information on the form, which still goes to Jenny in the Church Office. Likewise, you will shortly be able to sign up for all events at your leisure through the Calendar function on the website, rather than only on a Sunday or by calling the Church Office. The same is true for Pledging and Giving (these forms go directly and confidentially to the Treasury team), contacting the Church Office, and anything else that used to require you to call the Office to provide information.

Back on the Homepage, the Main Menu bar has been completely reformatted. The first tab is for first time visitors and others who are new to All Saints'. For example, the First Visit page includes a Welcome Video from Father Tony, with additional information about our worship services, children's ministry, our beliefs, an online guest card, our clergy, and directions to All Saints', including a link to our campus directory and maps.

The Who We Are tab contains more detailed information about what makes us who we are, the cornerstone of our beliefs, our history, our clergy, staff and lay leadership, our campus, the cemetery, and, more generally, the Episcopal Church. Worship & Faith Events outlines information about our services and sacramental rites and pastoral offices. The Ministries tab outlines our five church purposes, as well as a detailed look at our children's ministry.

On the Event Calendar page, you can toggle between our Featured Events, which highlight our more public facing events, a list of all our events, and the full calendar. Very shortly you will be able to use this page, as well as the Featured Events section of the Homepage, to sign up and pay for various events throughout the year.

The Media tab contains the page where you can watch our live services, a video library of previous services and homilies, our news and publications page with links to The Trumpet, Bulletins and the weekly E-Blast, and a page that outlines the capabilities of our new Church App, including instructions on how to download the app. Coming soon will be a photo gallery of events organized by year and event.

Finally, the Giving tab allows anyone to give online at any time, as well as outlines the many ways parishioners and guests can give at All Saints'. The footer, which appears on every page, has links to our social media platforms, a sign up for E-Blasts, how to plan your visit, and the Contact Us page.

As you navigate throughout the website, we hope you will notice that we have lightened it

Deacon's Report

In so many ways, it has been a great year for our wonderful “church on the hill” here in Jensen Beach as we celebrate the 125th Anniversary of our building. Even more so, we celebrate our presence in the community. We all love this church. It is our home away from home where we gather weekly for worship and fellowship; it is enjoyed by our members and our community.

This is a church that gives so much to others. As your Deacon, I try to offer service not only to our church members but also to our community members who are often very much in need. As most of you probably know, we have a fund called TRUE, to help people often in dire need to pay their bills when unexpected emergencies occur. TRUE only provides a small sum, but it is money available to help neighbors facing troubling times to pay their urgent expenses—things like help with utilities or a portion of rent.

We collaborate with other community agencies in doing this. They refer to us and we refer to them. Sometimes we can also help our clients by telling them of other community agencies that may be able to further help them. Recently I referred someone who had serious medical problems with no medical coverage to Volunteers in Medicine, an agency in Stuart which will help people in serious medical need with full medical coverage at least until they are 65 when they can get Medicare.

The services we render are often leveraged by our neighbors but are available, in an anonymous way, to those in our church community as well. Maybe you also may have a financial need that we can help you with due to unexpected financial situations.

Although TRUE is not intended for ongoing support, some people who come to us also have ongoing food needs. We provide this by referring clients to House of Hope and when possible, provide $25 gift certificates for local grocery stores.

We are a community of love and compassion and are here to help others; even through talking, listening to others when they may have emotional or physical problems.

I am no longer as active in Kairos as I was for over 10 years, but I attend some of their functions as I have built up spiritual relationships with the some of the prisoners. Kairos means God's time; we offer spiritual help to those prison to transform their lives so they can feel the love of Jesus Christ and help others to find Christ as well.

Weekly on Thursday afternoon, I have a Bible Study Group at Martin Correctional Institution “Deacon Gellert's group.” Believe me there are great needs in our Correctional system that our society neglects. Florida has one of the largest prison systems in our country and very little is provided in education and rehab services. Kairos helps fill this void and the recidivism rate from those who are active in Kairos is very low.

In God's love,
Deacon Alan

Houg Hall

Sunday Coffee Hour:

We're thankful that we have volunteers for coffee hour after both the 8 a.m. and the 10 a.m. services for all of April. We plan to continue to have two coffee hours throughout the year, including during the summer season, with the emphasis on fellowship (meaning the fare will likely be lighter).

Every Sunday, we have volunteers for providing:

- Coffee
- Juice
- Hot water available for tea

Provided we continue to have volunteers, we will also have

- Fruit and
- Something to munch on, but "lite fare."

In order for this to happen we need people from both services to volunteer to bring a food item to share. Please volunteer and do your part to continue these fellowship opportunities.

Sign up sheets are in Houg Hall for each coffee hour; so we know what to expect.

Thank you!

All Saints' Cemetery

The Cemetery Board is short a Vice President; I Really can't continue to do it all.

The Vice-President is desperately needed, in addition to chairing the meeting in the president's absence needs to be able to research one of our big needs – a new mausoleum or replacement fencing. We are changing our Board Meeting times to 6 p.m.

Consider taking this position in a most unique ministry entrusted to us for 125 years. We didn't know what we were doing when we said yes... neither did the disciples. For more information call/text me at 906.201.1328 or email me at 19florida77@gmail.com

Endowment

Greetings from your All Saints Endowment Board. March is the month where we attempt to entertain you and inform you. I think we did just that this year.

On March 8, we had Kris Hansen, a Deputy Fire Marshall from the Martin County Fire and Rescue talk to us about how to best prepare our homes in case of a fire or medical emergency. There is a system in place where you can sign up online with pertinent information so that if Fire & Rescue is called to your home, they have everything they need to get into your home and then treat you in a timely fashion. It's called Martin County Community Connect. You can register at www.martin.fl.us/FirePrevention. Fire Marshall Hansen gave us information on how to prevent fires, fall prevention and much more. This event was open to all and we had a very good turnout with lots of questions. If you missed it, you can watch a video about the program here <https://www.communityconnect.io/info/fl-martincounty> If you live in St. Lucie County, call your county commissioners and ask for a similar program!

The following week, the Endowment Board sponsored our annual Appreciation Banquet for members of the Heritage Society who have contributed to the Endowment of All Saints.

Five years ago, we had a very successful program with an Episcopal Priest and Rabbi talking about the similarities and differences in our religions. Not surprisingly, there are more similarities than differences.

This year, Father Christian of St. Mary's returned with his friend, Shaikh Shafayat, an Imam of Islam. They had a rousing discussion and many questions were fielded from the audience. The Shaikh brought his wife, Mrs. Mohamed.

The Priest and the Imam: Father Christian Anderson and Shaikh Shafayat

Little did we know that they could not eat until after sundown as they fast during Ramadan. We made a quick adjustment to accommodate their religion and they ate dinner while we were all having dessert! What gracious people we had talk to us.

Father Christian moderated the discussion and the Shaikh was charming and made sure to stress the difference between religion and politics.

We introduced our newest member to the Heritage Society, Tina Kelly. She helped us serve the cake as is our custom and she will get her leaf on the Tree of Life in Houg Hall in the very near future.

Although our 2024 events are completed, we are still accepting new members to the Heritage Society so you will be all set for what we have in store for the 2024-2025 season. There are brochures in the parish hall and in Coffee Hall if you want more information.

Endowment Board and Heritage Society

Daughters of the King

“My soul waits in silence for God alone;
my salvation comes from Him.
He alone is my rock and my salvation;
he is my fortress.
I will never be shaken.”

From Psalm 62,
a Psalm of David

The Rule of Life that Daughters of the King follow is comprised of Prayer, Service, and Evangelism.

In March, our Daughters Chapter sponsored a quiet morning of prayer and reflection on Listening to God led by The Rev. Tara Shepley. It was a wonderful, peaceful time to be still and to know that God loves us and wants to have a two-way relationship with us.

Also in March, our chapter hosted an Agape Meal following the Maundy Thursday service. It was a time of fellowship and sharing a simple meal of some of the foods Jesus and his disciples would have eaten.

The next meeting for members of our chapter is delayed by one week to allow everyone to recover from Easter and Holy Week. We will meet on Monday, April 8th in the church starting at 5 o'clock.

Remember to let a Daughter know if you or someone you know is in need of prayer.

Peering Into the Past

Men's Fellowship

On April 23, 1926, the J. and R. Lamb, Religious Memorial and Historical Art studios informed Mr. Carroll Dunscombe.

“In explanation of the delay in answering your letter would say it was because you raise a new question in the latter part of your letter which certainly is not Mr. Lamb’s understanding of your interview here. At that time Mr. Lamb said that it might be possible to find donors of your memorial windows in people who were familiar with Florida and the purpose of your church. Certainly, he did not intend to suggest the financing of the building of the entire church.

However, he has had the matter referred to various loaning centers and in each case the answer is the same that at present Florida Real Estate is not an available asset and until matters have adjusted themselves and some of the inflation reduced, they doubt if it will be; and yet in each case they say this does not mean a criticism against your individual prospect, as other churches are being built and since your letter was received a decision in our favor has been made for the church glass at Clearwater.

J & R LAMB STUDIOS

If you can see your way as to how we can help you at this end, by giving us possible names of people here in New York who would be interested in the development of your church, we could have them looked up and see what success we might have on your behalf. In the meantime, retain the sketches for the glass, as we hope that progress on the church can be made.”

Women's Fellowship has traditionally helped the Men's Fellowship with events and they have helped Women's Fellowship with other events ... The Antique Car Show and Barbecue is Saturday April 13th from 11:30 a.m. till 2:30 p.m. Women's fellowship, as a large group, have traditionally provided the brownies for this event.

We need everyone's help to provide enough brownies. Please bring your brownies to Houg Hall Kitchen on Friday April 12th. This will enable us to get them individually packaged prior to the Saturday barbecue. I would love to have a list of those who plan to bake – But please bake and bring your brownies even if you have not posted you intent to do so!!!

Last year we served approximately 283 brownies. Though the last 20 may have been served at Sunday coffee hour the next day. Please support the men in this event by baking and bringing your brownies to Houg Hall kitchen on FRIDAY, April 12 from 9:00am - 12:00pm and 5:00 - 6:00 pm.

Late arrivals on Saturday morning will be accepted for those who are employed and cannot make those times. You may bring them prepackaged individually wrapped in clear plastic wrap.

We also want to sell some of the Art we have acquired. To do that we need volunteers to

- help organize and price the art before the car show and
- setup and sell the art work and
- breakdown and clean up the display area the day of the car show

Sign up for time slots is in Houg Hall.

Thank you, Thank you! Thank you!!

Saturday April 20th will be a regularly scheduled Women's Fellowship meeting beginning with 9:30am fellowship time. April is scheduled to be decision making time. We will vote to send our outreach dollars to charity entities.

May 18th we will hold our Spring Luncheon. During the summer months when we do not hold 3rd Saturday morning meetings I request you all work on items to sell at Holy Fair.

We have moved the Holly Fair date to November 16th -- so please get busy and remember this year we can include fall and Thanksgiving items!

Garden Happenings!

Jackson was strutting in his new shirt; Greta was smiling at her new skirt. Groggy was napping, and so was Draco, but I suspect he will not admit that! However, there seems to be a problem in the garden.

know I love you.”

“Yes,” said Greta, “even if you can’t navigate or fly with only one eye to see things, you still belong here with us. Wow, Father Tony is really rushing across the parking lot. It must be time for worship, I’ll wake up Groggy. Bea, we can get back to looking for your eye right after the worship service.”

“Why is everyone is coming out of the church? They didn’t even start yet...” Little One seemed disturbed and excited at the same time; but he remembered to whisper so the people could not hear him.

“Little One, buzz, please help me find my eye.” Bea, the big red bee was quite distressed. “I look quite dreadful, I’m sure. Not only that; how will I fly again? I can’t see where I’m going!” Then she began to wail: “I will be no good for anything or anyone and I can’t see to go anywhere either.”

Groaning and stretching Groggy slowly woke up. “I’m sure glad it is sunny and warm again; napping is now a real pleasure” and he began to move a little bit. “I am listening but I don’t hear any singing. Are you sure it is the beginning of worship and not the end?”

Greta whispered: “Be quite! Turn around, look and watch.”

“Miss Bea, Oh Miss Bea, I am looking, but I do not see your eye. Are you sure you lost it here in our part of the garden?” Little One was trying to look at Bea and trying to look around at the same time. “Ahhh, Help! I’ve fallen over, and can’t get up.” Little One had leaned over just a bit too far and now, lying on his side was quite helpless.

Bea said; “Hold on Little One, I can help you. Here, I’ll put my wing under you. Get ready, I’m going to lift you up.”

“Oh Bea, you did it! I’m upright again! Thank you. I guess that proves you still are an important member of this garden; and you

The people that usually go into church for the service were coming out of the building and gathering around right under Draco’s tree. They were quietly talking with each other.

Bea whispered: “It must be Palm Sunday. Oh look, Ginny is visiting from Texas!”

Little One quietly answered: “Yes, and Carol is visiting again, she is from New Jersey – and Lucy is here too. Hmm, I’m not sure who that is with Ms. Natalie, but the dog is cute and thankfully, little!”

“I see Deacon Allen, Mr. Duncan, Miss Dara &

Miss Joyce and I think that is James' son with the cross. Oh my, that is quite the scarlet red robe Father Tony has over his shoulders!"

Greta was quietly announcing the people she knew." Turning around a bit, Bea buzzed a happy sound. "Turned this way I can see them all in a circle, I just love the hats those ladies are wearing."

Then Father Tony gathered his flock closer to himself and began to speak about people waving their Palm branches and Jesus' triumphant entry into the city on the back of a donkey.

A good bit later when the church campus and gardens were quiet and empty of people, Draco started to sing in his melodic baritone voice:

".... Join all and sing,
His name declare; Let every voice resound with acclamation.
Hosanna! Praised be the Lord! Bless Him who cometh to bring us salvation!" (1)

When Draco was finished singing and the garden once again quiet; Groggy began to speak: "Father Tony had a remarkable sermon today. I really liked how he summed up the whole of his message with these words:

"Palm Sunday reminds us how quickly things can change.... "Palm Sunday also reminds us that after the cheering is over and we feel broken and defeated by the jeering; then comes Easter and God will raise us up. God will resurrect us. God will make us and all things new for us again. What we must do, we need to trust and believe in God to do so." "(2.)

Heads were nodding in agreement, as Bea remarked. "God is so good to us – we need to thank him every day."

"Yes," agreed Greta. "We are very lucky to call this garden our home."

Jackson, who had been quiet all morning, finally spoke: "I agree, but let's look for Bea's other eye."

Little One spoke up rather boldly saying: "Maybe at Easter God will make Bea new again with a new eye!" Bea smiled and answered him: "God is already so good to us – we need to thank him every day, and I will trust God that will happen. But, it is in God's time and if it is His will to do so."

Smiling in agreement, they stopped looking and all settled in for a warm, sunny afternoon nap.

Happy Easter!

The children have been looking forward to this most important day in our church year. Our Lenten reflections about self-control, a life of prayer, faith, forgiveness, service to God and Holy Week have prepared us for this joyous day!

Decorating the Easter Cross with beautiful flowers and putting their Mite Box collection in the basket at the foot of the cross reinforces their commitment to Christ. The money they have donated will go towards a church or community outreach project. Last year's Easter donation went towards the beautification of the American flagpole, the Veteran's Memorial bench and surrounding garden in the cemetery.

On Easter Sunday, each child will receive a flowering plant to take home and plant as a reminder of a "new life" in Spring. Sunday School activities will include various Easter crafts, a Holy Week story and an Easter treat. The children are also looking forward to the annual Easter Egg Hunt which will take place after the 10:00 service. Lots of activities to help us celebrate Jesus' victory over death and sin.

Over the next few weeks, the children will also be learning that Easter is actually a season – not a single day. After Easter Sunday, the season lasts for 50 days, continuing with the Ascension and ending on the Day of Pentecost.

Owen Johnson is having lots of fun in our All Saints' nursery with teacher, Lexie Laverty. We have room for more! Be sure to spread the word about our active Sunday School and nursery!

Thanks so much for your continued support!
