

In Proverbs we are told to “get wisdom,” and the Proverbs themselves are one of the best places to observe and learn that wisdom. God gave us this book to teach us how to walk in wisdom — that is, how to conduct and regulate our lives. It helps us conform our lives to God’s character and standards.

The Proverbs show us something of the compassion of God - that he cares enough about us to give us careful instructions for obtaining and practicing wisdom. General truths are revealed about how we are to conduct ourselves in areas of life like relationships, finances, work, and how we speak to others. God teaches us principles that will bring us peace and contentment, chides us for the things we have done in sin, shows us how to correct our way of life, trains us to live righteously, and helps us to strengthen our trust in God.
