Exodus 36:1-7

Getting Things Done Like Bezalel

Clint Pressley

1. Read Exodus 36:1–7 together. What stands out to you about how God chose and equipped Bezalel and Oholiab? How does this challenge or encourage your view of “ordinary” work or service in the church?
2. Pastor Clint emphasized that God assigns us roles and tasks as He desires, not always as we desire. What is an “assignment” in your life right now that is stretching you? How do you wrestle with contentment in that?
3. Reflect on Exodus 31:2–3. God filled Bezalel with the Spirit for a specific task. How have you experienced the Holy Spirit empowering you (or someone you know) for a particular role or moment?
4. In what ways do you see the Holy Spirit’s work in your life—convicting, calling, assuring, or empowering you? Where do you long to experience more of His presence?
5. The sermon drew a parallel between the tabernacle and Jesus “tabernacling” among us (John 1:14). How does seeing Jesus as God’s presence with us change how you approach your daily life and calling?
6. The Israelites were so generous that Moses had to tell them to stop giving! (Exodus 36:5–7) What does this reveal about their hearts and about God’s provision? How does this challenge our attitude toward generosity and stewardship?
7. The sermon highlighted the importance of community—that God gives us people to walk with us and help us persevere. Who are some “Bezalels” or “Oholiab” in your life, and how have they helped you in your faith journey?
8. The idea of “calling” was presented both as a call to salvation and to specific work. How do you discern God’s calling in your own life? Are there areas where you’re unclear or hesitant about His direction?
9. Contentment came up as a key theme—especially the importance of not comparing our assignments to others. Where do you struggle with comparison, and how can you cultivate Christ-centered contentment in your circumstances?
10. The sermon encouraged us to ask God for strength, wisdom, and humility in our assignments. How can your small group pray specifically for one another in the areas of calling, stewardship, and contentment this week?
