Connecting God's Love Story with our Community

October 2024
ISSUE 10
VOL. 67

Hello my dear Friend,

Have you lately thought about these questions?

- Why do we put round pizzas in square boxes?
- Why is the word "abbreviated" such a long word?
- Why does "fat chance" and "slim chance" mean the same thing?
- Why do we park on driveways and drive on parkways?
- Why is the time of day with the slowest traffic called "rush hour"?

While trivia questions can make us smile, life's real questions can make us cry. As I write this letter to you, people are struggling with questions like, "Why has war taken away so much of my family?", "Why do terrorists treat hostages so badly?", "Why did cancer take away my loved one?", "Why does someone I love so much, hurt me so much?"

People are also asking questions like: How can I make a living? How can I pay for my education? How can we organize housing for our family? How can we invest for the future? Who must I marry? What should be my retirement plans? Some of us are confused about other questions like, "How much cream must I use in my coffee?", or "Is there ever a good time to do laundry?"

In any case, let me suggest that the Universe and life on this planet will make better sense when we approach them through the kaleidoscope of good questions. Honest questions can be your best allies, when good intentions are your best friends. It has been said that finding the right question is as important as finding the right answer. What are some of your deep questions?

As God's people, we run the risk of responding with cliché answers to questions from our families, friends, and neighbors. It seems someone painted these words on a bridge, "Jesus is the answer". Someone wrote below those words, "But, what is the question?"

Right from the early record of creation, we see the power and place of questions. God's question in the garden of Eden, "Adam where are you?" still resonates in a world of prodigal hearts.

In Psalm 11:3, the Psalmist asks, "When the foundations are being destroyed, what can the righteous do?"

In Psalm 119:9 the Psalmist asks, "How can a young person stay on the path of purity?"

In 2 Kings 4:2, the prophet Elisha asked the widow, "How can I help you? Tell me, what do you have in your house?"

In Revelation 5:2 a mighty angel asks the question, "Who is worthy to break the seals and open the scroll?"

In his earthly ministry, the Lord Jesus would at times respond to a question with a question. For instance, in Matthew 22:15-20, the Pharisees tried to trap Jesus by asking if it was right to pay taxes to Caesar. Jesus, knowing their intent, asked for a coin and asked them whose image and inscription was on it. When they said, "Caesar's", He responded, "Give to Caesar what is Caesar's, and to God what is God's". The Gospel records, "amazed by his wisdom, they left him". The truth in Jesus's question to a question, holds a signpost to human hearts. What might the signpost read? 'Who you are is in whose you are!' In other words, life will only make sense when you surrender to the One in whose image you were created.

One of the most difficult questions that I have faced in my ministry was one from a little girl many years ago. She looked at me and longingly asked, "Pastor Arun, would you please be my daddy?" The question became complex because that little girl in fact, had a dad and mom and they lived together as a family. For reasons her little heart alone knew best, she felt the desire for someone like her pastor to be her daddy.

Questions can indeed be pointers to deeper longings in us.

As we continue to journey through the Gospel of Mark in our preaching series, "Remarkable", our theme for this month will be 'Questions from the King'. I pray you will be greatly blessed and drawn closer to the Lord as you continue to read, meditate upon, take notes and practice God's Word.

One of the great delights of preaching at Trinity comes in the gift of how you as God's people love and honor His Word. When I see young students coming to church with their Bibles in hand and taking notes during the sermon, or when I hear testimonies from people in the community about how my church members are exemplary Christians, or when I see how many of you love to be at a Bible study, or how some of you read the Bible in a year, or I see kids memorizing scripture or see our youth engage intently in Bible based conversations, or I watch a leadership team strive over a year to write Bylaws that are in line with Scripture – it makes my heart overflow with joy. The journey of over 8000 miles from India to America becomes worth every mile!

To God be the glory!

Grateful beyond a question,
Arun

PRAYER FOCUS FOR OCTOBER

The elections continue to be our focus in prayer. This great Nation's destiny is in God's hand. No matter what we hear in the ongoing debates, promises, name-calling and rhetoric, we as the people of God must stand steadfast, believing that God is in control. As I mentioned in our September prayer focus, the language of the believer cannot be the language of the street. Panic only leads to distress. Faith and trust, on the other hand, will lead to peace and promise.

BLANKET SUNDAY - OCTOBER 13

Blanket Sunday will continue at Trinity with a slightly different focus. In the past we contributed to the Church World Service Blanket Program. This year we will focus on giving the blankets locally to those in need. A small blanket will be given with each Thanksgiving Love Box. Come prepared to pin your money, or check, on the blanket in the lobby area on October 13th. Your contribution will go towards a blanket for the Thanksgiving Love Box. If there is excess money, blankets will be contributed to the Starfish Ministry. Thanks to Carol Evertts for coordinating Blanket Sunday.

UPCOMING DATES

OCTOBER - PASTOR APPRECIATION MONTH

On Sunday, October 6th we will appreciate Pastor Arun and the retired pastors who carried the ministry at Trinity over the summer when Pastor Arun was off: Bishop Pauline, Pastor Raymond Brooks, Pastor Kenneth Meyer, Rev. Dr. Dilip Abayasekara, and Rev. Dr. John Smith. At Coffee Fellowship we will have a special cake to appreciate their service to us.

OCTOBER 6 - WORLD COMMUNION SUNDAY

We join with the Church universal in remembering that we are one in the Spirit and one in the Lord.

NOVEMBER 3 - ALL SAINTS SUNDAY

We will remember those Trinity saints who have gone to heaven during the previous year. Please contact the church office to be sure your loved one is included.

Thank You

Dear Trinity friends and family, Thank you for all the love you have expressed to me during times of my absence. Your thoughts, prayers, cards and notes are welcome reminders how each of you are important to me. May you all be aware of God's blessings and love in your lives. With appreciation, Elaine Ocamb

CALENDAR MAKER'S REQUEST AND RETREAT

If you are leading a ministry at Trinity, you should have received a letter requesting you to work with your team to give us projected dates for events/programs/meetings that you plan for in 2025. We are also requesting all those leaders to join us along with the Leadership Team of Trinity in a "calendar makers retreat" at the Bongiorno retreat center on Saturday, November 9th. The purpose of the retreat will be to find inspiration for our vision and ministry as a church, to work together to complete our calendar for 2025 and to spend time praying together that God would bless each of our efforts to draw people to Himself and to make better disciples.

TRINITY'S BYLAWS

Copies of Trinity's proposed Bylaws are available at the Genesis Room/Lobby. This work of faith, stewardship and love is presented to the congregation for your kind attention. Appreciation, suggestions, questions may kindly be sent in writing to Carol Wilson, Secretary to the Leadership Team, on or before October 31, 2024. See covering letter for details.

THE PRAISE CORNER

by Todd Davis

*“Softly and tenderly Jesus is calling, calling for you and for me;
see, on the portals he’s waiting and watching, watching for you and for me.
Come home, Come home, come home; come home;
you who are weary, come home;
earnestly, tenderly, Jesus is calling, calling, O sinner, come home!”*
(Words: Will L. Thompson, 1880; Music: Will L. Thompson, 1880)

UPCOMING MUSIC

I am excited to announce that we will host the East Berlin Community Singers for the Christmas Musicale! On December 19th, 7:00 pm and December 22, 9:15 am, the Community Singers will join our choir for a large, extended work. The Community Singers will also provide their own selections. And, of course, our choirs will sing and ring for the program!

There will be 36 singers coming to sing from the Community Singers. The group’s musical efforts for this program are greatly appreciated! The Community Singers traditionally only sing in the Spring season. Having made a commitment to sing at Trinity Church, and to join our choir for Franz Schubert’s Mass in G, we should have close to 60 singers in the sanctuary! It will truly be an awesome experience.

MIDWEEK MUSIC CONCERTS

Midweek Music concerts continue! Concerts are on Wednesdays at noon and last approximately 30-40 minutes. Many, many thanks to everyone who attends and watches online! From music to trivia to jokes, we offer worship through music, reading Scripture, and pray. Come for all of this, and of course, come for the fun!

Also, please note that the church’s website has a link titled “Scripture and Song.” The selections you hear are brief, original meditations on a particular scripture and a related hymn. You can also listen to recordings that have been archived on the page.

SOFTLY AND TENDERLY

The above quoted hymn is “Softly and Tenderly Jesus Is Calling” by Will L. Thompson. Although the words might suggest quiet and comfort, there is an urgency in the text. The 4 stanzas in TUMH suggest many reasons why we should answer the call NOW. I am especially moved by the refrain. “Come home,” is repeated six times. He is inviting us into his loving presence. The author clearly states that Jesus is there for us to welcome us, no matter how many times we need to hear the same invitation. The melody itself is in an AA1BA1 form which lends itself to an easy singing of the words. The repetition of melody and words drives the point of the text home.

Perhaps He is calling you to serve him through music. If you feel the urge to sing, or ring, or provide music for Sunday services, please let me know! I can easily be contacted by phone, email, or text.

Lord, keep prodding. Keep calling. Keep working deep in my heart that I may know you, love you, serve you, and worship you both now and forever more.

STAFF TESTIMONY - STILL LEARNING by Nihal Andrews

Hello Trinity Fam!

I remember coming to Pennsylvania from India in 2014. I knew little about life in America and we were leaving our grandparents, relatives, and friends behind. You Trinity people soon became our family in America. As an Asian, who transitioned into a western culture as a teenager, I did go through my ups and downs in adjusting. I can also say that I did stumble and fall and slip on the way. My journey in this country has been both delightful and also one in which I have struggled and had to repeatedly come back to God for his help. Today, I have many blessings, including a loving family, and people who care for me. Sometime ago, God gave me a new job. As I began my new job, I began to write short devotions. I am sharing two pieces that I wrote by putting them together for you. I will appreciate your continued prayers for me. Thank you for all your help and support to my parents, my sister and to me.

Choose Joy (part 1)

As I was driving to work today, I was grumbling about all the ice and snow that I would have to clear from the cars in the dealership I work for. For those who know me well, it is no secret that I don't particularly care for the winter months in PA.

As I was turning at one of the lights to merge on 81, I noticed some immigrant workers outside doing manual labor to build a new shopping complex. It was then that I realized I have a lot to be grateful for. Even though I have a job that requires me to be outside, it is nothing close to the level of cold these laborers have to endure for extended periods of time.

In a few months we will once again embark on an Advent journey. As we do, we must realize that the manger was a cold place. No heaters. No hot chocolate. No heartwarming Dean Martin playing in the background. The journey and road to Bethlehem was a long and arduous one. However, Mary and Joseph did not once grumble at the fact that they had to work so hard to bring Jesus into this world.

Philippians 4:4 states, "Rejoice in the Lord always and again I say rejoice".

I hope you too can choose joy this season, as we all prepare for the coming of Christ.

Choose Joy (part 2)

As I woke up this morning, I was not thrilled by the fact that there was snow everywhere. As I mentioned, I am not a winter-lover. The cold affects my health, activates my allergies – and makes me quite uncomfortable. All that "White Christmas" stuff is not for me. I'd much rather spend Christmas in Australia.

However, as I reflected on another upcoming Advent season, I was reminded that the Bible urges us all to, "Consider it pure joy, my brothers and sisters, whenever you face trials of many kinds..." James 1:2

My father used to cite a saying, "I complained that I had no shoes, till I saw a man who had no feet".

The apostle Paul who was imprisoned for his pioneering of the Gospel of Jesus, found joy in the shadows of his imprisonment knowing the darkness allowed others to see Jesus, the Light of the World, more clearly.

This season, I pray I will choose joy, no matter what. I pray you too would do the same.

Still learning, Nihal

LOVE AND LIGHT (PT. 3)

by Jamie Bream

This article is a continuation from the September 2024 Tidings.

3. What does it sound like when a child first sees the face of God?

From the composer: “The last and most difficult question... I spent countless hours thinking about this, praying about it, and searching for the sounds that seemed to make sense of it all. The answer I came up with makes sense to me, and hopefully it will make sense to the listener as well. While there are massive moments, I realized it all began with a very intimate, personal and quiet encounter.”¹ This kind of encounter is seen following Jesus’ resurrection, where He meets Mary Magdalene at the empty tomb (John 20:11-18). Just as the Salvation melody is first stated by solo instruments before building into a full rendition of its main theme, the risen Jesus was first seen by Mary and “Peter and... by the Twelve... after that, he was seen by more than 500 of his followers at one time” before ascending to Heaven (1 Corinthians 15:5-6a; Luke 24:51).

In Elliott’s view, the question is answered in the stillness of an oboe immediately following this exuberant passage, which she feels represents the moment when Madison passed: “When you’re in an ultrasound room, and there’s no heartbeat, the tech will leave the room. That usually doesn’t ever happen unless something’s wrong. They’re going to go get the doctor because only the doctor can tell you that your child is gone. In that moment it’s completely quiet. It’s like she had slipped away without us even knowing. It was not some huge moment. It just happened. You can only imagine that when she went to Heaven, it was quiet and peaceful.”²

However, the following and final few measures of the piece represents a more traditional representation of ascension to Heaven, complete with a reprise of the Salvation melody, trumpet fanfares, woodwind flourishes, and percussion interjections. This combination of sounds crafts an audible vision of the throne room of Heaven as the piece comes to its close and the entire ensemble lands on a final extended E major triad surrounded by “as much ringing metal as possible”.³

To me, the ending audibly epitomizes our great hope as described in 1 Thessalonians 4: “For the Lord Himself will come down from Heaven with a commanding shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trumpet call of God. First, the believers who have died will rise from their graves. Then, together with them, we who are still alive and remain on the earth will be caught up in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air. Then we will be with the Lord forever” (vv. 16-17). What an appropriate conclusion to such a magnificent piece - a piece in which a “listener or performer can feel safe confronting the many feelings brought on by a tragic loss - despair, anger, confusion, loneliness, and finally, most importantly, hope... [and] as Elliott stated so eloquently, ‘...time eventually reveals the ‘love and light’ on the other side’” - the love and light we find in Jesus Christ and the hope that He alone brings.^{4&5}

OPERATION CHRISTMAS CHILD FOR SAMARITAN'S PURSE

Shoe boxes by November 17th. As in previous years, we are incorporating a hybrid model whereby you can pack a shoebox or send a check to Trinity Church on Bridge. If sending a check, please note in memo “Operation Christmas Child”. The box and the lid are to be wrapped separately. On the display table you will find a flyer to indicate the gender and the age of the child that you choose. This should be affixed to the lid of the box. There are further guidelines as to what to pack and what not to pack on the website for Operation Christmas Child. Each shoebox prayerfully packed full of fun gifts is an opportunity for the Gospel to transform the life of a child, family or a community. The shoe boxes are distributed to children around the world. For some children, it is the first time that they have received a gift and some go on to participate in follow up discipleship program, the Greatest Journey. Thank you for your kind help. If there are any questions, please get in touch with Jane and Rick Bittner or Patricia Stacey.

UNIVERSITY STUDENT OUTREACH

To welcome and help University students to continue to engage with God's word and God's people at Trinity, we are proposing to have a lunch after Revive once a month for those who attend Revive. This will especially facilitate university students who are attending Revive to stay back and connect with members of the church and with one another. We invite you to support this effort through your prayers, financial/food contributions, and volunteered time as best possible. To know more please contact, Pastor Arun or Jamie Bream.

NEW GUEST FELLOWSHIP

On Sunday, September 15, Bishop Pauline Peifer, along with other volunteers hosted a dinner for our new guests. The sessions are planned in such a way that we can get to know our new guests better and they can get to know more about the life and ministry at Trinity. It also becomes a good time for them to meet with the Pastor and members from Trinity. Great times with great people and great moments with a great God. Special thanks to Barbara Mickle and team who helped with hosting this event during Carol Evertts' travels.

Worship at Revive blesses University Students

HAT FOR A CAUSE!

It was a great time that our youth and adults had, at the dinner hosted in honor of our youth by our adult Bible class members. During the event, there was a cup arranging contest. Pastor Arun lost in the contest to one of our youth. Although he lost, he was given a hat as a prize. Talk about grace! This inspired pastor Arun to offer to wear the hat at a church service if that youth (who has only attended youth group until recently) would attend church. The picture speaks for itself.

TOP 10 BILLBOARD SONGS AND YOUTH

In one of our sessions, our youth were invited to engage with and think about the sub-culture being presented in America's top 10 Billboard songs. Gen Lupold did a masterful job, engaging our youth and helped them to think biblically about the choices they need to make.

Do continue to pray for our youth and ministry, especially for our adult team comprising of Jan Snyder (coordinator), Gen Lupold, Sue Grubb, the Blacksmiths, Barbara Hawk and Pastor Arun. One of Pastor Arun's special joys was to hear of how one of our young people said at youth group, "When I get married, I would like Pastor Arun to conduct my marriage if he is still around." God-willing, as we say and believe!

FALL DISCIPLESHIP BIBLE STUDIES

October 2 - November 20, 2024

Based on a survey taken at the conclusion of the Lenten Bible Studies, we will offer the following three studies for you to choose from. The eight Wednesday evenings will begin with Supper Fellowship all together from 5:00-6:15 p.m. The group studies will conclude at 7:30 p.m.

Group #1 - How to Study the Bible - led by Jan Ocamb

Have you ever wondered whether a passage of scripture should be interpreted literally or figuratively? Did you ever wonder if there is proof outside of the Bible for the people and events that are described in it? Or did you ever wonder if science and the Bible are compatible? We'll survey counter cultural evidence that supports the Bible being divinely inspired and explore archaeological discoveries that validate the Bible's authenticity. We'll consider testimonies from former non-believers as well as examine spiritual themes and learn about God's Special and General revelation. Most importantly, we'll investigate how the Old Testament works with the New Testament to reveal Jesus as our Lord and Savior. Come prepared to learn and be inspired as we survey the 1500 years of God's revelation to us in the Old and New Testaments.

Group #2 - Membership/Baptism Class - taught by Pastor Arun Andrews

Interested in becoming a member of Trinity Church? Membership is a wonderful way to express your commitment to the Lord in our church family and to grow in your faith, fellowship and service. It also involves embracing and being embraced by a loving community of God's people. We invite you to join Pastor Arun in a new members series based on Tom Rainer's book, "I am a Church member" (books will be provided). Enjoy sweet fellowship, getting to know others who are interested in membership and learn more about Trinity's heart and mission. It promises to be a time of renewing your faith and finding your spot in God's family. Those interested in professing their faith through immersion baptism are also invited to these classes. To know more contact Pastor Arun or Bishop Pauline.

Group #3 - Experiencing Hope in the Midst of Life's Challenges - led by Bishop Pauline Peifer

At every season of life, whether as a young adult, busy mom, career specialist, or retired grandpa, life has its challenges. Each session's teaching will address a different challenge including study of a Bible character who experienced that challenge along with additional small group discussion and practical applications. Sessions include: Walking the Unknown Journey with Hope, Hope in the Midst of Adversity and Trials, Finding Hope as you let go of Fear and Anger, Hope after Mistakes and Misunderstandings, Hope that Brings Contentment and Resilience, Hope that Blossoms in the Midst of Loss, Leaving a Legacy of Hope, The Hope of Heaven

We hope you will consider attending these Wednesday evening seminars in October and November. As a disciple of Jesus, give your spiritual life a boost. Look for sign up sheets located on the tables outside the Sanctuary and inside the Fellowship Hall. You can also sign up at www.trinityonbridge.com or call the church office. Indicate which study group you would like to attend. If you have any questions about these discipleship opportunities, please contact the leader of the group or Pauline Peifer, Discipleship Coordinator.
