

MEET OUR ELDERS ELECT

Mike Bolewitz grew up the oldest of four brothers in western PA. He went to Duquesne University, and moved to Charlotte in 2002, after earning his PharmD and MBA. He and wife Jodie, have three children – Holden, Norah, and James. The Chief Operating Officer for VIA Health Partners, formerly Hospice & Palliative Care Charlotte Region, he has been with the organization 17 years. The family has been connected to Selwyn since 2009, with the children growing up in the CDC. Mike shares SAPC has been a meaningful part of their family life and an amazing spiritual home. He looks forward to returning the many gifts received from that relationship in the opportunity to serve as an elder.

Sarah Pineno is a junior at Myers Park High School. She was baptized in January of 2010 at Selwyn and has been an active member since. She was the youth representative on the Associate Pastor Nominating Committee for Youth and Mission, and participates regularly in youth activities. Sarah loves the time she has spent at Montreat. She looks forward to being more involved during her time on Session and is grateful for the opportunity.

Katie Cumbs is originally from Galveston, TX. She attended Washington and Lee and Wake Forest Law, moving to Charlotte in 2006. Katie and husband Kevin joined Selwyn in 2008. Their children Cooper (16) and Camille (13) were baptized here and spent many happy years at the CDC. Following a career practicing law, she currently works at Tusk Practice Sales. Katie previously served on the Session. Currently she serves as an Augustine Literacy Project volunteer at Montlaire and in various volunteer capacities at her children's school. Katie shares, "Selwyn has been such a welcoming and supportive place for our family, and I look forward to the opportunity to serve as an Elder".

Martha Rand has lived in Charlotte for 35 years. Martha is married to Jack and they have two sons, David and Charlie. Martha worked in the preschool world for 22 years at Christ Church Kindergarten until retiring two years ago. Martha is a lifelong Presbyterian and has been a member at Quail Hollow for nine years.

Lindsay Haynie has been a member of Selwyn since 2022. She has two daughters downstairs in the CDC during the week, the oldest of which is frequently seen dancing in church in outfits of her own design. Lindsay owns her own public relations agency here in Charlotte with a focus on travel, sport and lifestyle clients. Lindsay has a passion for connecting families through her work with Children's Home Society of North Carolina and by welcoming and connecting new families at Selwyn on Sundays and during the week in the Child Development Center.

Erin Salzein joined Quail Hollow through the choir while rediscovering her faith after graduating from college and moving to Charlotte. Erin feels called to help God's people in any way she can, whether that's through her career as a blood banker or through serving the combined congregations as elder. Erin says she is "incredibly excited about this opportunity to serve!"

Sebastian Marth was born and raised in Germany. He moved to Charlotte in 2008. Sebastian is married to Sally Marth. They have two children - Miles and Milly. Sebastian works as a Supply Chain Manager at Owens Corning. Sebastian shares "SAPC gives our family a lot of stability and offers spiritual growth. Especially our kids. The value of Miss Nancy and Mister Brian to our kids cannot be overstated!"

Rebecca Thompson has been a SAPC member for twenty plus years and is the proud mother of Caroline and Annie Thompson. Rebecca is a Senior Contract Manager at Blue Cross Blue Shield of North Carolina where she has been employed for the last 24 years. Rebecca is a book and baby lover and is always willing to snuggle up with one! Rebecca shares "I look forward to my second act as an Elder and am pleased and honored to serve my church community in this exciting new era of Selwyn Avenue Presbyterian Church".

Roger Mills shares he is "fortunate to be the husband of Erin and a proud father of three children—Ella (17), Jack (14), and Hudson (11). Roger has been a member of Selwyn since 2008 and previously served on the Session. He is a founding partner at Mills Eloge Homes, ModeCrafted, and Mills Eloge Investments. Roger shares, "I feel called to serve Selwyn once again because this is a particularly exciting time in the life of our church".

Ted Zimmer has been attending Selwyn since 2021 with his wife Janette. They have a 4 year old son, Theo, with another son due in April. Ted works in HR Strategy at a Bank. Ted shares he "accepted the nomination to serve as it's a deep responsibility and must and should be shared by members. You also get as much as one puts into any effort or organization and I hope this role and the responsibility it carries brings greater insight to my relationship with God while maintaining the welcoming home and sanctuary of faith.." that is Selwyn.
