Men are more likely to be uninsured than women

June is Men's Health Month, a time dedicated to raising awareness about the health issues affecting men and encouraging them to prioritize their well-being. This observance serves as a reminder for men to schedule regular check-ups, prioritize physical activity, eat a balanced diet, and manage stress effectively.

Men's Health Month also highlights the importance of early detection and preventive care. Many serious health conditions such as heart disease, diabetes, and certain cancers can be managed more effectively or even prevented with routine screenings and healthy lifestyle choices. By staying informed and proactive, men can take control of their health and improve their quality of life.

This month is also an opportunity to start conversations about mental health, which is often overlooked in men. Encouraging open dialogue, reducing stigma, and providing support are essential steps in helping men seek help when needed. Whether it's physical or mental health, Men's Health Month is a powerful reminder to take care of yourself.

Here are some men's health tips to keep in mind this month:

- Get Regular Exercise: Engage in physical activity at least 30 minutes a day, five days a week and include a mix of cardio, strength training, and flexibility exercises for overall fitness.
- Support Your Heart: Heart disease is the leading cause of death for men in the United States. Support your heart health by maintaining a healthy weight, eating a heart-healthy diet, managing cholesterol and blood pressure levels, and engaging in regular physical activity.
- Remember Your Mental Health: Aim to have open discussions about mental health and reach out for help if you are experiencing symptoms of anxiety, depression, or other mental health concerns. Find healthy ways to manage stress, such as exercise, relaxation techniques like meditation or yoga, adequate sleep, and maintaining a supportive social network.
- Get Your Prostate Screening: Discuss regular prostate exams and screenings with your healthcare provider, especially after the age of 50, or start earlier if you have a family history of prostate issues.
- Make Healthy Choices: Quitting smoking and limiting alcohol intake can improve your health. Choose a balanced diet rich in fruits, vegetables, whole grains, lean proteins, and healthy fats while limiting processed foods, sugar, and sodium.

Dr. Cindye Richburg Cotton, of Brookland-Lakeview Empowerment Center, West Columbia is 2026 SC Women in Business Award Winner

May 15, 2026 | admin | No Comments | NEWS, Social Media

West Columbia's own Dr. Cindye Richburg Cotton has been recognized as one of the distinguished honorees of the 2026 SC Women in Business Awards, a prestigious statewide celebration recognizing exceptional women leaders who are making a lasting impact across South Carolina.

Hosted by Integrated Media Publishing, the annual awards luncheon will take place on Wednesday, July 29, at the Hyatt Regency in Greenville. The event honors influential women from a wide range of industries who demonstrate excellence in leadership, innovation, and community service.

Dr. Cindye Richburg Cotton

Dr. Cotton's recognition reflects a lifetime of leadership, service, and transformational impact throughout South Carolina communities. As Executive Director of the Brookland-Lakeview Empowerment Center in West Columbia, she has dedicated her career to improving lives through education, workforce development, mental health advocacy, and community health initiatives.

With more than 30 years of senior management experience, Dr. Cotton has become a respected leader known for her ability to build meaningful partnerships and create opportunities that empower individuals and families. Under her leadership, the Brookland-Lakeview Empowerment Center has expanded programs that support youth development and economic empowerment while strengthening community engagement throughout the Midlands.

Her outstanding work has helped secure more than $12 million in grant funding and foster collaborative partnerships with major organizations including AT&T, Dominion Energy, TD Bank, and Boeing. These accomplishments highlight not only her strategic leadership but also her unwavering commitment to creating sustainable change.

In addition to her executive leadership, Dr. Cotton also serves as an adjunct professor at the University of South Carolina's Darla Moore School of Business, where she continues to inspire and mentor future business leaders.

The SC Women in Business Awards celebrate women who exemplify excellence while strengthening South Carolina's business community and economy. Dr. Cotton's selection as a 2026 honoree is a testament to her visionary leadership, tireless service, and dedication to uplifting others.

Family, friends, colleagues, and community leaders across the state join in congratulating Dr. Cindye Richburg Cotton on this well-deserved honor and thank her for the tremendous impact she continues to make throughout South Carolina.
