REFLECTION

The power of the Holy Spirit is amazing. He has guided Michael on a journey that led him to his current position at St. Dominic as managing director. Michael is humbled by the awesome parishioners who live their faith every day. He is blessed and grateful to be able to grow in his faith at this wonderful parish.

Windshield or Rear-View Mirror

Apparently, I am a broken record. When I retired from UPS, the team gave me a list phrases I used over and over dubbed "michael-isms". One of my favorites is "There is a reason the windshield is bigger than the rear-view mirror".

We can learn from the past, but we can't change it. We can dwell in a "should of, could of, would of, if only I'd" mindset, or we can take action. We can rationalize our mistakes, our sins, and repeat them, or we can stop choosing to sin and choose to change. We can get our only joy from things that occurred decades ago, or we can create new successes, new memories. We can live in the rear-view mirror, or we can look out the windshield and impact our future.

The same is true for how we treat others. Do we hold grudges and not give second chances or do we forgive and actually forget or at least move on? Do we tell people everything they "do wrong" or do we provide solutions, ideas, support, and help them to impact their future? Do we look at those less fortunate and say, "well they must have made bad choices" or do we offer a loving hand and encouragement?

Thankfully, God has the largest windshield. He forgives unconditionally when we ask. He provides us the framework and tools for a positive Christian life full of love. He wants us to glance in the rear-view for we learn from the past, but focus on what is ahead. His Son is THE example. Jesus loved and forgave sinners, helped the exiled, and challenged everyone to join Him to change this world.

The choice is ours. Reside in the past or live and love in the windshield. Want to change the broken world, whether personal, local, and larger? Choose to follow the golden rule. Choose to be Christ to someone each and every day.

Summer Reading Series

July 16 | 6:30-8:00 PM | Marcy Center

All adults are invited to join in the discussion of the book "Return: How to Draw Your Child Back to the Church," by Brandon Vogt. Please read the book prior to attending.

The statistics are troubling: an average of 6.5 people leave the Catholic Church for every one that joins, and 50% of young people who are raised Catholic are no longer Catholic today. We need to understand the real reasons why people drift away, and we need a game plan to bring them home.

BEAR WITNESS

Answered Prayer

Today's column is a story from Mike B, who shares how God worked in his life.

On Holy Thursday, I was at work when I received a voice mail from my mom saying that my dad was not doing well. He had been out with my mom running errands when he started feeling bad. He knew he couldn't drive home, so he called their neighbor as my mom is unable to drive. Three neighbors came: a retired nurse, a retired firefighter, and a retired Marine. They drove my mom home and took my dad to urgent care. I started praying the Sorrowful Mysteries. While in prayer, my sister alerted me that dad had a really high fever and was septic. He was being moved to the ER. I started praying the Joyful Mysteries.

My plans quickly changed from managing the busyness of our children's activities and evening services to going to the hospital to meet my sister. I called my pastor to solicit his prayers. On the way to the hospital, I continued to pray the Luminous and then Glorious Mysteries. Having not yet reached the hospital, I prayed a Divine Mercy Chaplet.

I prayed for healing for my dad, if it be God's will, and that when the time comes, he will be taken right to heaven. But I was really worried about mom as she depends significantly on my dad for her daily needs, so I asked our Blessed Mother and guardian angels to watch over her. I asked all the saints and angels to pray for mom and dad. And I especially asked for my dear friends in Purgatory to pray for them. I poured it all out in prayer.

I arrived at the hospital at the same time as my sister. We talked to the neighbors in the waiting room. They said dad couldn't walk at all and had to be lifted in and out of the car and was incoherent. His blood pressure was really high, in addition to the fever. At the very least, we were expecting that he would stay the night and get an IV antibiotic to fight the sepsis.

When we got in to see dad, he was coherent and the fever was gone. Blood pressure was back to normal. He had only received Tylenol and a bag of IV fluid. The urine test didn't show any infection. Blood tests showed higher white blood cells counts, but nothing else. They did a CT scan of his internal organs, and it showed nothing unusual.

The doctor and staff were stumped. They said there was nothing wrong and he could go home. They switched him to a different antibiotic pill to complete the UTI regimen, and then I drove him home.

I am in awe at the power of prayer. I prayed a divine mercy chaplet in praise and gratitude for this miraculous healing and for answered prayers. I thanked God, Jesus, Our Blessed Mother, all the saints and angels, and especially my dear friends in Purgatory. I know I am just a lowly sinner and can't do anything on my own. I have been truly blessed beyond measure. All praise and glory to God the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. Blessed Mother, pray for us.

Planting Seeds vs. Weeds

I've been planting my annual garden and pulling weeds that grow faster than tomatoes. I believe that in every interaction with others we have the capacity to plant seeds or weeds. Seeds look like respectful, kind, honest, generous, and loving words and actions. Weeds look like insulting, dishonest, manipulative, gossipy words and actions. We all know when we are on the receiving end of seeds versus weeds. We often fail to recognize when we are the ones planting weeds instead of seeds. Our feelings get in the way and we find it so hard to forgive when we've been hurt. We don't need to be doormats to bad treatment - but we do need to turn the other cheek. Not for the sake of others - but for ourselves. If we walk around sowing weeds, ultimately we will be the ones surrounded by prickles and thorns. Tomatoes won't grow when surrounded by weeds. ~Vivian Roe, Director of Finance

GOING DEEPER

Today's Gospel Reading

Take a moment to sit with today's Gospel: Lk 9: 11-17 Allow the Spirit to work in you, with you, and through you.

Both Matthew and Luke's gospels have an account of the feeding of the 5000. Take a moment to explore Matthew 14:13-21 alongside Luke 9: 11-17. What is the same? What is different? How does this impact your understanding?

This Gospel is a foreshadowing of what is to come at the Last Supper. How do you think the Twelve saw this occurrence?

The disciples were thinking logically when they thought it would be best to send the crowds away to get food and a place to stay. When the disciples suggested Jesus send the crowds away, why do you think Jesus replied to them saying, "You give them something to eat?" Why do you think Jesus suggested they give the crowds something to eat?

HOLY HOURS for Hope

June 22-27, 2025

During the Jubilee
Year of Hope,
Let's Pray for Hope!

As part of the Church's observance of the Jubilee Year of Hope, parishes throughout the Archdiocese will celebrate a Holy Hour for Hope on or close to the Solemnity of the Most Sacred Heart of Jesus on Friday, June 27.

This coordinated effort unites us in prayer before the Blessed Sacrament, to reflect on the source of our hope: the self-giving love of Christ revealed on the cross and in the Eucharist.

Holy Hours will last about 60 minutes, but you are welcome to come at any point—for a few quiet moments or the full hour.

Check here for current times and locations:

Join us to pray for the gift of hope in our hearts, homes, Church, and world.

OUR CATHOLIC FAITH

The 3 Signs of the Cross, Explained

Many people go to Mass or other devotions, doing and saying things out of habit or reverence and not really understanding the reasons behind some of these things. But everything we do has a meaning or purpose that helps us to worship better, proclaim our beliefs, or focus the attention of the people on something that has a greater importance or significance. Knowing the meaning of various gestures and practices can help us have a deeper appreciation for what we do.

There is a little prayer that goes with the three crosses before the Gospel:

"May the words of the Holy Gospel be on my mind, on my lips and in my heart."

In standing to hear the Gospel, we acknowledge that Jesus is present, and the words of the Gospel are addressed to us. All of the gestures and special postures we adopt before the Gospel are intended to help us prepare for hearing the Word as well as act on it. The incense, the Alleluia, the deacon or priest, and the special dialogue and announcement that introduces the Gospel help us focus our attention on the Good News we are about to hear. The three signs of the cross show our desire and good intention to hear and live the Gospel.
