

GOOD SHEPHERD

Catholic Community

A religious painting depicting Jesus, with long brown hair and a beard, wearing a white robe, leaning over and feeding a man with a small white object. The man, wearing a red robe, looks up at Jesus with an open mouth. The background is a textured, stone-like wall. The text is overlaid on the lower half of the painting.

ANOINTING OF THE SICK

The Catechism of the Catholic Church (#1514-1515) teaches that this sacrament is not only for those at the point of death, but for anyone seriously ill or facing serious surgery. In fact, it is preferred that parishioners entering the hospital for surgery should ask the priest for this sacrament before being admitted. Parishioners should never wait until the last minute to call. We encourage parishioners facing surgery to let the parish priest know of their condition before entering the hospital so that they can be anointed before admission.

EXPLORING THE WORD

WISE FOODS

When we were in high school, we learned that the word sophomore came from Greek words meaning "wise fools." The idea was that the second year student thinks he knows it all now, but still has a lot to learn. The first two readings describe wisdom versus foolishness. In Proverbs, Wisdom is a woman who invites us to her banquet, telling us to "forsake foolishness." St. Paul invites us to give up our ignorance and to know the will of the Lord, by filling ourselves with the Spirit. Jesus says he himself is the way to understanding God's will; he gives himself as food and drink for eternal life. So how will we accept these invitations to partake of the Wisdom of God?

One way is to read the scriptures every day, even for only 20-30 minutes. Take time to think and pray about what you read. Don't do all the talking; let God have his chance to be heard. Read short passages and the footnotes—they can explain some of the obscure references. The gospels are especially good "food" because of all the examples Jesus gave in his sermons and parables.

Listen to the readings and homily at Mass. The Pastor may have some insights that make you think. Receive communion often to be fed with the living Bread. The Church has always taught that we are fed with both the word and the Eucharist.

An athlete grows in strength by eating well, but he also has to exercise to tone and strengthen his muscles. If we want to grow in God's wisdom, we have to exercise our faith. If you have a friend or relative who is a good example of faith, talk with that person about how you experience God or your lack of experiences. They may help you see God in ways that never occurred to you. You could offer to be a sponsor for someone in the RCIA, and help someone else's faith to grow. Your parish or diocese may also have on-line resources or discussions.

God never forces himself on anyone. To grow in his Wisdom, we have to accept it. Ask him for real food and you won't be disappointed. But be patient, God only gives what we are ready to receive.

Sunday Scriptures at Home

Many people find it helpful to pray over the Sunday Scripture readings at home before going to church. The practice puts them in touch with the Church's prayer, helps them listen as the readings are proclaimed at Mass, prepares them to hear the homily, and engages them personally in the Word of God.

The Sunday readings are available in many publications and online at www.usccb.org. To prepare the readings at home, get a copy of them, or just get the citations and look them up in a Bible. Create some time and space for this prayer. If you do it alone, remove yourself from other activities. Choose a place where you can center yourself. Open the Scriptures and read over them. You might keep a journal and jot down some thoughts that come to you. Ask yourself some questions such as these: "What is going on in this reading? Is something similar happening in my life? What is God saying to me this week?"

If you pray with others, choose a time when everyone is together. You could pray in the living room at the end of the day or around the table before a meal. Someone reads the Scripture aloud. All think about it. Then each shares a few thoughts. Read the passage again. You may choose one or more readings at a time. The exercise can be repeated throughout the week. God's word is able to go as deep inside you as you give it time and room.

When you get to church, do not read along while the readings are proclaimed. Lift your head and open your ears and heart to the Word of God.

Hey Family,
Let's Talk About This!

Have you ever read the Sunday readings before Mass?

Why should you read the readings before Mass?

Vocations

Answering God's Call

"Always give thanks for all things."

Give thanks to the priests, sisters, and brothers who answered God's call with open hearts to serve Him. Is Christ calling you to serve as a priest or in consecrated life?

Prayer for Vocations

Jesus, you are the Good Shepherd. You know each of us and call us by name. Help us to respond generously to your voice by opening our hearts to discern your holy will. We pray especially for those whom you are calling to serve the church as priests, deacons, sisters, and brothers. Give courage and guidance to all, so that we may respond to your call and serve you devoutly.

Shepherd's Corner

I am the good shepherd, and I know mine and mine know me

Well, the Olympics are over, but as I write this column the women's gymnastics events are taking place. Now, I've never walked a balance beam, nor have I ever wanted to, but those women at the Olympics sure make it look easy! One foot in front of the other, step by step, then lower your body and do the splits without falling off. What about throwing a backflip into the routine and trying to land back on the beam? Their precision is amazing. I know it takes years of training and discipline to be able to do these routines. And, as the adage goes, practice makes perfect.

It's fairly obvious when the words are written out, that discipline and disciple are related. They both come from the Latin word meaning pupil or student. There's a lot of learning that is needed, not only in gymnastics and other sports, but also in being a disciple of Christ.

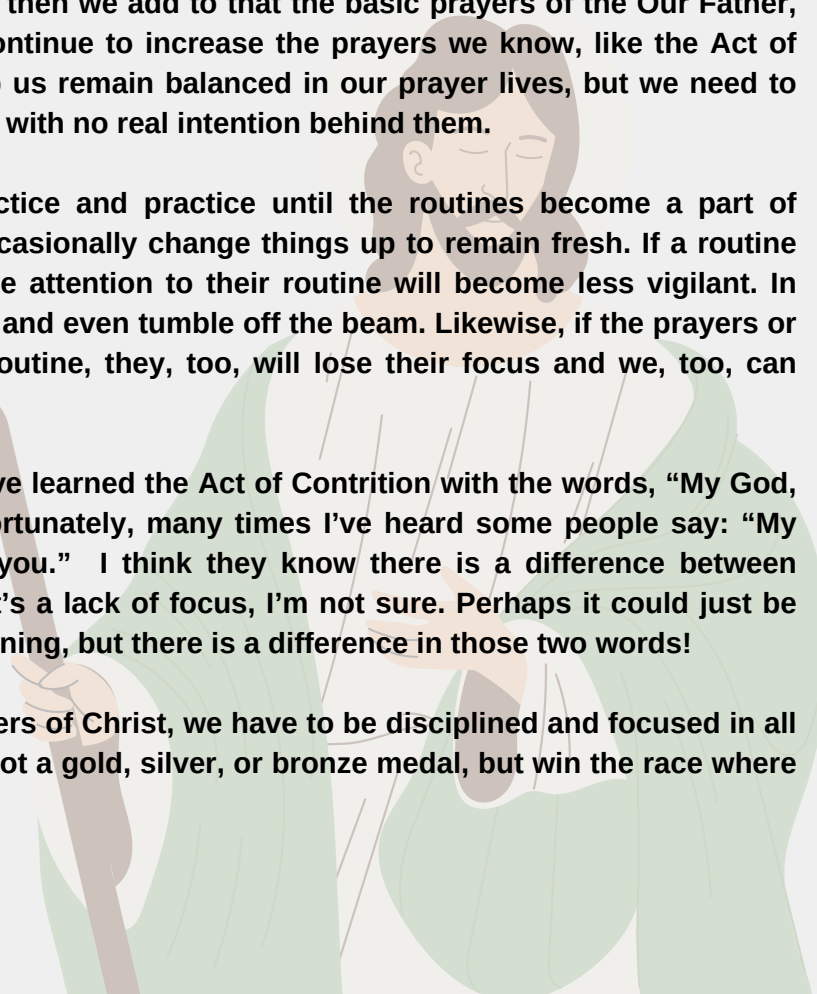

As Catholics, our Liturgy and rituals help provide us with tools to keep our balance and focus so that we can become good disciples. We learn things from childhood to help us become rooted in the Faith. We learn the 'Sign of the Cross' as toddlers, then we add to that the basic prayers of the Our Father, Hail Mary, and Glory Be. As we grow, we continue to increase the prayers we know, like the Act of Contrition. These prayers are tools that help us remain balanced in our prayer lives, but we need to take care that they don't become mere words with no real intention behind them.

Remember that as much as gymnasts practice and practice until the routines become a part of themselves, they also know they need to occasionally change things up to remain fresh. If a routine becomes overused, it can become stale. The attention to their routine will become less vigilant. In their self-assuredness they can lose balance and even tumble off the beam. Likewise, if the prayers or rituals we learned as children become so routine, they, too, will lose their focus and we, too, can tumble or fall off the path of discipleship.

For example, those of us of a certain age have learned the Act of Contrition with the words, "My God, I'm heartfully sorry for offending you." Unfortunately, many times I've heard some people say: "My God, I'm hardly sorry for having offended you." I think they know there is a difference between 'hardly sorry' and 'heartfully sorry.' Maybe it's a lack of focus, I'm not sure. Perhaps it could just be that I'm getting older, and my hearing is declining, but there is a difference in those two words!

The point I'm trying to make is that as followers of Christ, we have to be disciplined and focused in all the things we say and do if we want to win, not a gold, silver, or bronze medal, but win the race where the finish line is the kingdom of heaven.

Peace and Blessings,
Fr. Mike Ciski, T.O.R.
