From the Pastors

Behold, I Am Making All things New

"Then I saw a new heaven and a new earth, for the first heaven and the first earth had passed away, and the sea was no more. <sup>2</sup> And I saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband. <sup>3</sup> And I heard a loud voice from the throne saying, "Behold, the dwelling place of God is with man. He will dwell with them, and they will be his people, and God himself will be with them as their God. <sup>4</sup> He will wipe away every tear from their eyes, and death shall be no more, neither shall there be mourning, nor crying, nor pain anymore, for the former things have passed away." <sup>5</sup> And he who was seated on the throne said, "Behold, I am making all things new." (Revelation 21:1-5a).

How are those New Year's resolutions looking for you?

I don't know if I can make any new commitments until I've actually 'resolved' some of the problems that I have with the old commitments that I've already made. Consider this. How many unfinished projects, tasks, or to-do lists do you have sitting around your house? How many counter tops and tabletops are covered with things that we set down because we were going to get to it later? How many things are in our garages and our closets and our junk drawers waiting for us to "finally get the time" to get it wrapped up? Those holiday gatherings certainly are great for getting those half-finished projects shoved off the living room table and put away from the kitchen counter, but how many of those projects actually got "done" or were they just hidden in a much less easily seen location in your home?

Half-finished projects. Half-accomplished lists. Half-hearted attempts. How do we begin 'anew' when we haven't resolved conflicts of old? Martin Luther loves to instruct us in the catechism that each day we are to remember that in our baptism "the Old sinful self in us should by daily contrition and repentance be drowned and die with all sins and evil desires, and that a new man should daily emerge and arise to live before God in righteousness and purity forever."

The problem is that #1 the old Adam, our old sinful self, is a really good swimmer #2 our 'attempts' at drowning him are again an often half-finished, half-hearted attempt...a project that we were going to get around to completing later. And yet when we turn to the words of Revelation 21, we come to see a vision of hope, a glimpse of our future, and a promise that all things shall come to a completion. Revelation 21 promises that Jesus is coming to us. Breaking in of the new creation. Despite all our so-called preparing for Christmas, it is Christ himself who has done all the preparing and all the accomplishing to bring us into his promises, his peace, and finally into his eternal joys of the new creation.

In the end when Christ shall come again not only will the old get resolved, but it will be resurrected, restored, and renewed into the new. As the Christmas hymn, "Now We Sing, Now Rejoice" says, "Come from on high to me, I cannot rise to thee..." God has given us a 'fresh' covenant, not necessarily a new one. He has fulfilled his promises to Israel, but He has expanded them beyond their wildest imaginations. The gift of Christmas is that God has given us grace upon grace (John 1:17). Jesus is the gift that keeps on giving all year long. And that is far better than any jelly of the month club.

But now as the New Year begins, so now the work of Christmas begins. Christ comes to work the "newness" of the kingdom into our lives. The promises brought by the Christ child has the chance to now grow and take root in our lives.

We stand here on the edge of the old and the new, so let us rejoice that our Lord Jesus is the one who has resolved the old and brought us into the new. He is the one who has begun a good work in us and the one who will bring it to completion in the day of his triumphant return.

As we mark this changing of the calendar, we again confess that whenever he may come, let us be ready to sing his praises and to bow our knee for his is our light, our life, and our salvation. He is Jesus Christ our Lord.

May our God continue to work in you all things new, as we daily repent of the old sinful parts of our life, and joyously receive from our Lord the blessings of the righteousness that comes from Christ alone.

God's Peace, Pastor Kurt Ebert

Executive Director

From Your Executive Director

Let's face it: January in Indiana is generally not motivating. According to the National Weather Service, on average it is cloudy or overcast 59% of the time. Our January weather in Indianapolis has an average high temperature of 33.4°F and an average low temperature of 21°F, which tends to be the coldest of the year. Poet T.S. Eliot wrote that April is the cruelest month, but I disagree. In my opinion, January wins every time, and in the opinion of others, February is not too far behind. In other words, if you like bright sunny and warm days (like I do), January is not your month in Indiana.

And the Advent and Christmas seasons are behind us. Epiphany has come and gone; the tree is down, the house is undecorated. All the excitement building up to the seasons is over. For some in our community, it was apparently over on December 26th, as I noticed people no longer turning on their outdoor lights and taking their trees down. I guess for them, the "12 Days of Christmas" – Christmas to Epiphany – was more like the "12 Hours of Christmas." I'm certain they are rushing right into the next Christian holiday – Candlemas, on February 2nd.

As everything is packed away, one of the hardest ones for me to box up is our nativity scene. Yes, we put it up early in the season, but baby Jesus does not arrive until the 25th. I know of at least one family at Calvary who also start moving the 3 Wise Men (or Magi) through their house on the 25th, so they arrive at the manger on the 6th. Somehow, the act of putting this away for another year is really a clear reminder that the holidays are over.

Here's a question: how many people not only put Jesus away when packing up a nativity scene, but also put Him away in their life, only to bring Him back out at a later date, say Easter? Out of sight, out of mind as the adage goes.

How about this instead – if something is going to be removed from our lives, could we not do as is written in 1 Peter 2:1-3: "So put away all malice and all deceit and hypocrisy and envy and all slander. Like newborn infants, long for the pure spiritual milk, that by it you may grow up into salvation— if indeed you have tasted that the Lord is good."

Let's put those things away but keep Jesus out and forefront. Let's demonstrate that we serve Him by connecting ourselves and others to Him, by caring for others, and certainly learning and growing in our faith. Let's keep him out so we can engage people in and with Him. A dark cardboard box or storage tub is no place for Him! He should be and needs to be front and center of all we do both inside and outside of our congregation. Not only at Christmas, Easter, or other church holy days, but at all times and in all seasons.

Keep Him out after Christmas and Epiphany, letting others gaze upon Him as we continue to serve Him at Calvary – not because we have to, but because we can, sharing His love and message of saving grace to others around us.

In His and your service,

Bill Laut

The Unknown

The first time for just about everything is unknown to us. I distinctly remember my first day in high school. I was entering my freshman year knowing that over 4000 students attended the school. My 8th grade class consisted of 21 students. My older brother filled me in regarding high school life. His sage counsel informed me that it would be good to have someone that you know in your PE class and lunch period, but you're not sitting with me if we have the same lunch period. Only 16 of my 8th grade classmates attended this school. My odds seemed rather small.

As I entered the locker room for 1st period PE class a classmate from 8th grade was there. Part One was answered. YES! What about Part Two? Six lunch periods were scheduled each day. Once again, my odds were slight. FANTASTIC!! Three students from church joined me for lunch. In fact, the four of us had the same lunch period for all 4 years of HS.

The unknown may bring to us fear and trepidation. A wisdom tooth extraction, a surgical procedure, the first day on the job, taking the drivers' license exam, and New Year are all examples of first times creating the unknown. No matter whatever our unknowns might be God goes before us. In faith we walk knowing that He is an ever-present help in all times- unknown and known. God then equips us to face future unknowns with courage and strength overcoming our doubts, anxieties, and worry. We gather as God's people encouraging and uplifting those in times of unknowns as we sing a little louder.

January 2024

January 7, 2024 – Epiphany of Our Lord (Observed)

Rev. William Mueller

The prophecy from the prophet is profound. Light in the darkness. Kings and nobility bear witness to the Light. Rare gifts given from love. This is Epiphany and so much more! Come and worship. Bow down with the Magi and discover, along with a boy named Gunther, Epiphany Light.

Sermon Text: Isaiah 60:1-6

Readings: Psalm 72:1-11; Isaiah 60:1-6; Matthew 2:1-12

January 14, 2024 – Second Sunday after the Epiphany

Rev. Dr. Thomas Ahlersmeyer

We SEE GREATER THINGS in daily living and eternity with Jesus in our lives. When Jesus entered a skeptical disciple's life, Nathanael's vision of God greatly increased. He promises and does the same in our lives!

Sermon Text: John 1:51

Readings: Psalm 139:1-10, 1 Samuel 3:1-10, John 1:43-51

January 21, 2024 – Third Sunday after the Epiphany

Rev. Dr. Walter Maier III

What a life we have! We experience God's blessings and joys. We also have sorrows. The Apostle Paul reminds us to keep this present life in proper perspective. What exactly is that perspective?

Sermon Text: 1 Corinthians 7:29-31

Readings: Psalm 62:1-8; 1 Corinthians 7:29-31; Mark 1:14-20

January 28, 2024 – Fourth Sunday after the Epiphany

Rev. Thomas Eggold

The Word of Jesus in synagogue wasn't a new teaching; it was a retelling of a timeless promise from the mouth of God Himself. It is the teaching that man is not capable of keeping God's Law. It is the teaching that Christianity is not about the work of the Christian, but about the work of Christ. My friends, today we have this very same Word of God...and this teaching is astonishing!

Sermon Text: Mark 1:22

Readings: Psalm 111; Deuteronomy 18:15-20; Mark 1:21-28
