A Life Turned Inside Out

We find ourselves in the heart of the church season of Lent, a time of reflection and repentance. It is a time that we consider the nature of our being, the nature of our living, and the nature of God's love for us and His creation.

Martin Luther in his reflections upon the nature of humankind offered this thought, "It is easy...to sense how we seek and love ourselves ..., how we are bent in and curved in upon ourselves, if not in what we do, then at least in what we are disposed to do" ¹ According to Luther, our sinful nature is one that leaves us "turned in upon ourselves." It is the natural tendency to allow the unholy Trinity of "ME, MYSELF, AND I" to rule over and above the Holy Trinity of Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.

In his own reflections on the subject, the Apostle Paul urged early Christians to "[do] nothing out of selfish ambition or vain conceit, but in humility consider others better than yourselves. Each of you should look not only to your own interests, but also to the interests of others" (Philippians 2:3-4).

So, how are we doing today in considering others better than ourselves? We live in a hyper "me-focused" society, and too often the lives of those inside the church reflect the lives of those outside the church. We continue to be turned in upon ourselves both individually and congregationally. We can be more concerned of what is going on inside these walls than what is going on outside these walls in the homes, workplaces, and shared spaces of our congregation and our community.

The truth is that when Jesus called us to "take up our cross and follow him," he desired to change the "shape" of our lives. Rather than a life that is constantly circling back upon itself, Christ desired that we might die to our old sinful nature. He desired that we may be shaped by his cross, so that we may be "turned outward" toward God and our neighbor. As the power of God's Word speaks into our lives, it cannot help but create a "cruciform" shape to our lives as we look "up" to God for the full forgiveness and freedom that comes by His grace alone but also looks "out" in love to our neighbor (e.g., spouse, children, parents, fellow church members, friends, co-workers).

But where do we receive this transforming power that turns us "inside-out"? Where can we find a power that can set us free from our circle turned in on ourselves? We find it only in the good news of Jesus Christ. Only as the love and grace of our Lord Jesus Christ pours into our lives are we set free from our old sinful ways. See where Paul directs our attention in his encouragement to the Philippians, "Have this mind among yourselves, which is yours in Christ Jesus, who, though he was in the form of God, did not count equality with God a thing to be grasped, but emptied himself, by taking the form of a servant, being born in the likeness of men. And being found in human form, he humbled himself by becoming obedient to the point of death, even death on a cross" (Philippians 2:5-8). Praise God that there was one who was selfless, one who was truly a servant, one who considered others more than Himself. Thank God for the grace and forgiveness that is not just for us, but for all people. Praise God for Him who is the very power of God at work in our lives. We pray each day that our lives be less about us and more about him. For it is only through Him that we have a forgiveness that knows no bounds, a love that doesn't quit, and a peace that passes all understanding.

May our Heavenly Father be at work in Your life this Lenten season through His mighty and powerful Word. May He continue to turn your life inside-out and upside-down by the lifechanging gift of Jesus Christ.

God's Peace, Pastor Kurt Ebert

May our Lord continue to be at work among us as the people of God at Calvary as we continue Engaging People in Christ through Connecting (Up), Learning (In), and Caring (Out) as we Serve in the name of Jesus.

Staff Spotlight

Tony Spelde

What is your role at Calvary?

I have been an organist since 1976 and also am currently Director of Music—Traditional Worship

What is your favorite thing about serving at Calvary?

As a lifelong member of the LCMS, I have always felt that the Lutheran heritage of hymnody is one of the best ways for us to worship. The melodies, harmonies, lyrics and their "singability" can offer a sense of connection across generations. In a world marked by constant change, the enduring beauty of Lutheran hymnody remains a source of comfort and inspiration

Who has been the biggest influence on your faith? Why?

During my time at Calvary, I have been able to watch our worship culture and the preferences of our congregation develop over the years. This shapes and informs my role in selecting hymns for our services, hoping to create a musical experience that not only aligns with the season, message, and scriptures of each service but also resonates with our congregation as they engage with the music and its presentation.

Favorite Book/Verse of the Bible?

John 14:1-4 and Ephesians 5:19

Favorite Dessert?

This one is much easier—chocolate cake (really just about anything chocolate)

What is one thing that the people of Calvary can keep in their prayers for your area of ministry?

I deeply appreciate when members of the congregation let me know when they enjoyed some aspect of the service. But I am a realist and I also am aware that Bob Dylan's lyrics still apply ("The Times They Are a-Changin'"). My prayer is to know how to "read the room"!

Executive Director

From Your Executive Director

For those playing along at home, last March I discussed how the name of this month is a word that is anthimeria, meaning it can be used as either a noun or a verb. And I ended my column suggesting we must be bold and fearless in our faith, marching like the hymn "Onward Christian Soldiers."

What I wrote last year still holds true: we must be bold and fearless in our faith. Over the past year, I have read innumerable studies conducted about the future of Christianity in America. The Evil One has been and still is very busy, convincing many in our country to turn away from God, becoming humanists who no longer need God in their lives. Or worse, becoming atheists: over 30% of the young people in our country claim they have no belief in God.

Somewhat surprisingly, there are no hymns in our hymnal that talk about marching, other than "Onward Christian Soldiers". We march – think about our Synod's participation in the annual March for Life events across the county – but we don't generally sing about it.

I had to turn to the Evangelical Lutheran Worship Hymnal of the ELCA, to find a song about marching, the South African song Siyahamba. It is a simply worded song, with one phrase: "Siyahamb' ekukhanyen' kwenkhos'", which translates to "We Are Marching in the Light of God." (ELW #866 - for a great video of a performance, see youtube.com/watch?v=QGOiANtGmhE).

Question: are you marching? Or are you watching the parade from the sidelines?

Are you marching to connect yourself and others to God? Are you marching to learn more about His word? Are you marching to help others, demonstrating your care for them? Are you marching, to Engage People In Christ?

Jesus never said it would be easy to be an engaged follower. He didn't say "sit down in your La-Z-Boy recliner and follow me." No, He tells us it will be difficult, in Matthew 16:24, when He told His disciples "If anyone would come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me." (emphasis added)

We know it's not easy. Jesus was tempted by Satan during His 40 days, and Satan continues to tempt us with things to draw us away from God: binge-watching shows on the television. Video games. Sporting events. Social media. Or even worse, apathy.

We have a mission at Calvary, one started over 90 years ago, to fulfill the Great Commission in Matthew 28 in our community. We have been faithful to that, and now with all the temptations around us, it is even more critical we look for ways to fulfil our mission.

So put on your boots. Lace them up tightly. Get ready for a hike in the wilderness, so to speak. There are a lot of people out there who need to hear the good news of Christ. Be like the song "Before The Parade Passes By" from the musical Hello Dolly, when she sings "Before the parade passes by | I've gotta get in step while there's still time left | I'm ready to move out in front." Grab your staff. We are marching in the light of God!

In His and your service,

Bill Laut

Calvary Lutheran School News from Principal Rensner

Take A Number

When I was a child many times when we went to the butcher or baker a line was already formed. We needed to take a number to join those in line. A little display box kept a running count of which number was being served. Each time a "click" was heard we knew that our time of waiting was nearing an end.

Take a number to be counted among those waiting. This ensured the proper sequence. First come-first were served. No line cutting or disagreements as to who arrived first. The number in hand was all that was needed to determine order.

Yet Jesus turns this idea upside down when He teaches that the first will be last and the last will be first. It is in direct opposition to the way the world operates. The students are often seeking to be first in line. Many of our younger grades have a specific line order for them to follow making again the order known for each student rendering the idea to seek the first spot in line a moot point. So what was Jesus referencing from Matthew 20:16? Here, Jesus challenges the conventional wisdom that places value on worldly status or position. He emphasizes that in God's kingdom, the order of importance is different. Those who are considered "last" by society may find themselves at the forefront in God's eyes. Jesus calls us not to be looking to be served, but to first seek to serve others. The acronym J-O-Y summarizes this idea. JESUS- OTHERS-YOU reverses our sinful nature with its desires and looks first to Jesus who gave to us His life.

This is taught each day through the ministry of our day school. The students are given opportunities to practice this through leading worship and conducting service projects. One service project of emphasis this school year has been to send Gospel story books to children in Liberia and Sierra Leone through Lutheran Heritage Ministry. The students and staff of Calvary have raised over $2000.00 toward this project. We have sent 400 books proclaiming God's Gospel message of salvation. No one should need to wait in line to hear the Gospel message.

We thank God for the prayers and support of our congregation as the doors to our school have proclaimed this same message for 74 years. Praise God for His giving and serving people.

Kindergarten through Eighth Grade Registration 2024-25

Registration for the 2024-25 school year continues. Registrations received will allow us to better prepare for the new school year. Staffing needs, equipment, facilities, and classroom assignments will be determined and finalized based on the enrollment numbers through this registration process. A few grade levels have already reached capacity. Families are urged to act as soon as possible to ensure an open seat.

Families re-enrolling for the new school year may do so through FACTS. You are asked to meet with Mrs. Camin, our bookkeeper, in the school office to complete all financial paperwork. Your re-enrollment is not complete until BOTH the online and financial portion are done. Please contact the school office with any questions. We would be happy to help!

Please contact the school office with the names of neighbors, coworkers, and friends that may be interested in sending their children to Calvary Lutheran School. Jason Scheidt, our Director of Admissions, will be happy to share the blessings of a quality, Christian education with all interested families. We share and extend this ministry to our Indianapolis Community as well.

CHOICE Student Scholarship Application Window Opens March 1st

Calvary Lutheran School will begin to accept CHOICE student applications on Friday, March 1. Students that are enrolled for the 2024-25 school year may apply. Household income and size will guide this application process. For example, a family of four may have an adjusted 2023 gross income tax reported of $230,000 and qualify for a CHOICE scholarship. Please contact the school office with any questions. We will be happy to assist you with this process.

We desire the students to do their best on these tests. Please assist them by providing early bedtimes and nutritious breakfasts. Studies have also shown that limiting video games for one-two weeks prior to the testing will improve scores. Thank you.

The students and staff will join throughout Holy Week as we trace the steps of Jesus on His path to Calvary. School will be in session on Good Friday. We will gather in the Lord's House for a special chapel service at 2:15 p.m. Following the service, the students are dismissed in silence as we consider Jesus' sacrifice for our sins.

"Christ Cleanses the Temple" - March 3, 2024 – Third Sunday in Lent

Rev. Dr. Walter Maier III

Christ's cleansing of the temple was one incident in his fight against evil. His carrying on that fight is good news for us, and guides us as to how we believers are to live in today's world.

Sermon Text: John 2:13-16

Readings: Psalm 19:1, 7-14; 1 Corinthians 1:18-25; John 2:13-16

"Lifted Up" - March 10, 2024 – Fourth Sunday in Lent

Rev. Thomas Eggold

There is not a story or sign in the entire Old Testament that points more directly to the Cross than the serpent on the stake. Here a bronze serpent hangs from a cross, and it was put there by God precisely because of sin. The sign of our sin and the image of the death we deserve is suspended between heaven and earth and between God and man. And there, on the wooden pole, God saved His people.

Sermon Text: John 3:14-15

Readings: Psalm 107:1-9; Numbers 21:4-9; John 3:14-21

"Greatness In His Glory" - March 17, 2024 – Fifth Sunday in Lent

Rev. Shayne Jonker

Jesus alone was qualified, there is no one on earth who can lift this miserable cup of death to his lips and drink it to the bottom. There is no one on earth who can be baptized into our death and rise up out of it to life. Only Jesus Christ, the Word made Flesh can stand in our place and do for all what we can't do for ourselves.

Sermon Text: Mark 10:45

Readings: Psalm 119:9-16; Jeremiah 31:31-34; Mark 10:32-45

"The Suffering Savior" - March 24, 2024 – Sunday of the Passion

Rev. Paul Shoemaker

Jesus took upon Himself the sins of all people for all time. On Calvary's cross He paid for those sins in full. His resurrection on Easter was God the Father's "Well done." He accomplished His task. His victory is complete.

Sermon Text: Mark 15:1-47

Readings: Psalm 31:9-16; Mark 15:1-47

"Boy! Do I Love Him!" - March 31, 2024 – Easter Sunday

Rev. William Mueller

Easter Sunday is so filled with joy! The sudden turn of events in the life of Jesus and His disciples. Even though He had told the disciples about it ahead of time, no one remembered this would be. Death is swallowed up in victory. In the resurrection of Jesus death is undone. The plug is pulled on death. And this brings us great joy!
