Jesus Christ is Risen Today...Our Triumphant Holy Day

I don't know about you, but Easter is my favorite holiday. I know some like the food of Thanksgiving, some like the presents and decorations of Christmas, and others like the smoking grills and explosive fireworks of 4th of July, but for me nothing gets better than the joy of Easter. Now I'm not exactly a morning person, but there's nothing more joyous than to enter into the church on Easter morning as the sunshine pours through the church windows, as the scents and the beauty of the Easter lilies adorn the sanctuary, and as an overflowing congregation joins their voices together to sing beloved Easter hymns. There is such a transformation from the saddened tones of Maundy Thursday and Good Friday to the joyful hymns and greetings of Easter.

Nothing says Easter morning more to me than the hymn "Jesus Christ is Risen Today." It simply bursts forth with the joyous message that Christ has triumphed over the grave, emerged victorious over the attacks of Satan, and has left our sins buried in the tomb. The hymn directs all attention, all praise, and all glory to Jesus for what he did on our behalf, leading to this "triumphant holy day."

But my favorite line of the hymn—a line that slips by too quickly—says "Jesus Christ is risen today, Alleluia! Our triumphant holy day, Alleluia..." The entire hymn rightfully directs all glory, honor, and praise to Jesus for what he has accomplished, but it also directs our attention to the significance of that news for those now singing. After all, at Easter we aren't just celebrating Jesus' victory over death and the grave, but our victory as well. Because of what Christ did on the cross and through the tomb, all Christians can call Easter "our triumphant holy day." This is the reason why I like Easter so much, for Easter is the celebration that Jesus rose from the dead and so shall we!!! On Easter we are given the unshakeable promise of resurrection from the dead. Following the message of Easter we no longer need to fear death. We no longer need to fear the grave. We no longer need to hang on to our grief over loved ones who have gone before us, for all who have been united with Christ through Baptism are resurrected to a new life both in this life and the next. We are now able to live each day with the attitude of the Apostle Paul, "For me, to live is Christ and to die is gain" (Phillipians 1:21). There is no more powerful message of the Gospel than the message of Christ's triumph over death and the grave. May this Easter and every coming Sunday be a celebration of "our triumphant holy day" given to us through the life, death, and resurrection of our risen Lord, Jesus Christ. He is the firstfruits of what is yet to come. May we throughout this season and throughout the year ahead, joyfully greet one another with those words of Easter morning, "Alleluia, Christ is risen...He is risen indeed! Alleluia!" Amen.

God's Peace, Pastor Kurt Ebert

But Christ has indeed been raised from the dead, the firstfruits of those who have fallen asleep. For since death came through a man, the resurrection of the dead comes also through a man. For as in Adam all die, so in Christ all will be made alive.

- 1 Corinthians 15:20-23

From Your Executive Director

Empty.

It's a word that can describe something bad or something good. But usually, it's used in the negative sense of the word.

For Martha and Mary, then Peter and John, the empty tomb was at first very bad: someone had taken Jesus's body. Yet as we know, what was first bad turned into good with His resurrection.

For my morning coffee, having an empty cup can be bad, especially when I need that early jolt of caffeine to get started. But it won't get started on the half-empty, half-full argument. I just want to know who's been drinking my coffee.

Now, let's talk about our churches: in America, in Indiana, in Indianapolis. More and more are looking less full these days, and sadly, some have closed for good. Locally, the number of closed churches continues to grow, even with our Burmese friends occupying them.

The ELCA has taken locally the brunt of Lutheran closures: Hope Lutheran. Advent Lutheran. Our Redeemer Lutheran. The former St. Matthew Lutheran, which left the ELCA and became independent, is now a satellite campus of Cornerstone Lutheran. But LCMS churches are at risk: Ascension in Beech Grove last reported statistics to the Synod in 2020 with 26 baptized members and an average of 10 worshipers a week. Reading the Reporter can be depressing, seeing the number of churches that have closed or consolidated.

Every study about church attendance I've read the past 10 years all points in the same direction: based purely on attendance, the Christian Church is in decline in America. And we are seeing the outcome of this: empty churches lead to empty hearts which lead to empty lives.

Calvary has the opportunity and ability to reverse this trend, with our re-energized plans for the coming years. We are going to demonstrate how much we care about and for others, participating in new programs for our church and community. We are going to help our members and non-members grow in Christ by learning through a variety of programs. And we are going to connect – or in many cases, reconnect – with each other, with our neighbors, with our community. All this we do in service to God, and in turn, Engaging People In Christ.

All these things require us to consider and think about how we operate as a congregation. We need to free our pastors to be pastors, not administrators. We need to look at our structure and determine how our activities and actions fall into the three areas we identified as the roadmap to our future: Connecting, Learning, Caring.

At the end of the day, while we go by the name "Calvary", this is still Christ's church, and we have the ability to help fill this emptiness around us, just as Christ fills us. We are reminded in 2 Corinthians 4 that "Therefore, having this ministry by the mercy of God, we do not lose heart. . . we have this treasure in jars of clay, to show that the surpassing power belongs to God and not to us."

It's time we share the content of these jars with those around us! Let's empty them out – and this time, being empty – it's a good thing!

In His and your service,

Bill Laut

Impossible Tasks

Humpty Dumpty sat on a wall,
Humpty Dumpty had a great fall.
All the king's horses and all the king's men
Couldn't put Humpty together again.

Humpty Dumpty was one of the first nursery rhymes that I learned. The rhyming pattern and four-line stanza was easy to memorize. I still remember the pictures in the book watching him fall and the dismayed look on the faces of the King's entourage trying to put Humpty Dumpty back together again. Nothing that was done could restore Humpty back to his "egg-cellent" form. It was an impossible task. What are some tasks that you find impossible to accomplish?

We, too, are unable to be put back together again by the stain of our sin. We are hopelessly damaged and marred. Easter has made the impossible tasks of our own redemption eternally finished as Jesus rose victoriously from the grave. As we gaze into the empty tomb, Jesus Christ has made all things new. We are restored in His Father's eyes perfect and holy washed and cleansed in the sacrificial blood of His One and only Son. What we could never accomplish on our own was made complete not by our own merit or worth, but only through God's great love, mercy, and grace. God's plan of salvation was complete as promised to Adam and Eve. Sin, death, and the power of the devil is destroyed. All is made right.

We celebrate with great joy as this Good News is shared each day with the students as they enter the doors of Calvary Lutheran School. We praise and thank God for the opportunity to gather in His Name knowing that all the impossibilities of our salvation have been made right. We sing a little louder!

Connecting. Learning. Caring. Serving.
