

APRIL 2025

KASES KOLUMN

WELCOME!

hi guys! april is now almost over and i cant believe it! i pray that this letter is finding you all well! writing newsletters is so fun to me because i love getting to tell you guys about all of the fun things that me and my team get to do! so i will just hop right into it! (unintentional easter pun 😊)

MINISTRIES

as usual our ministries are still going great! currently we are active in the ministries of young adult group, which is held at our house! and i actually was able to lead one of our groups talking about the spiritual discipline of journaling! also we attend womens group which is always very encouraging! we were actually able to go to the hospital in santa rosa to pass out tamales and coffee! it was a super exciting thing we could do to encourage the people that wait at the hospital and even the staff! its been a huge blessing to be able to meet with these groups and be encouraged throughout my week!

YOUTH

also this month we got to have a super fun even with the youth! we had a day retreat to this place called viejo trapiche. and we had various times of devotionals, singing, and of course games! also in viejo trapiche they have a pool, and several animals almost like a zoo that you can go to to see them!

EASTER

as we know easter was this month! and i actually had a really fun day! i was missing my family a little bit but we made the most out of the day with our coordinators mike and kris! we got to eat some super yummy food, we dyed boiled eggs, and kris even made us cute little easter baskets with some candy! i am so thankful for that day that Jesus rose from the grave! what a day!

SEMANA SANTA

as i was talking about easter and the week before easter is called holy week! holy week here in honduras is a week that is pretty much fully off! the schools dont have school and we only had work with radical for two days! so we got to have a few days of just chill and relax! it was super fun and nice! one night we had a super fun event! we had a pajama party with the radical girls and it was super fun we did all of the girly things you can think of! we also had a pool day! we went to this super cool place that had water slides and pools and some yummy food too! it was a super fun place to relax and for the majority of the morning it was just us! semana santa was really chill and definitely needed!

RADICAL

radical is a huge part of our ministry so of course i have to talk about it too! radical is going super good right now! we have done four values this month gratitude, forgiveness, equality, and transparency. all topics that are very good to talk about but at times hard to find activities to help the kids understand the topic. but i love love LOVE my kids that i teach classes to and i just grow in love for them every time i see them.

BYE BYE

thank you guys for coming along on this letter with me! i hope you enjoyed because i did! i love getting to write to you guys and also live the life we have here in corquin. thank you guys for all the support and love you guys have given me! we officially only have eight months left in corquin and that is a sad thought but there is still a lot of time to do more for the kingdom of God! i love you guys! see you in may!
