Life Hacks: Expanding Your Selective Memory

Wisdom is similar to a skill we learn rather than a set of ideas to memorize. The process of learning wisdom is made easier with a coach. This means we have to be teachable if we are going to be wise. We need to get around wise people, then put ourselves in a position to learn from them.

Warm-Up

1. What is a smell that brings back a memory?

2. When was the last time you asked for advice?

Talk it Over

3. What part of the message stood out to you and why?

4. Read Luke 5:1-11. What are some of the advantages of being teachable?

In what ways did Simon show a teachable heart?

5. The following passages identify some challenges to being teachable. Is there one of these you relate to?

Proverbs 12:15

Proverbs 18:2

Proverbs 26:16

Proverbs 29:1

6. Can you think of a time when you wanted to go in a certain direction, but someone gave you advice, so you decided to choose an alternate path based on their input? What were some of the challenges to doing that? How did it work out for you?

7. What is the role of humility and trust in being teachable?

Take it Home

8. To learn wisdom and apply it, we need to 1) listen to advice, 2) seek honest counsel, and 3) become a disciple. Which of these three would be a good next step for you? What would that look like?
