Easter often is not as beloved as Christmas.

Maybe it is because the commercialism surrounding Christmas is larger. Maybe it is because Christmas offers more days off from our normal schedule. Maybe it is because of the tradition of giving and receiving gifts at Christmas is such a pleasure to us.

Whatever the reason, I want to challenge all of us to value Easter with as much joy as we value Christmas. The baby in the manger eventually became our Savior on the tree. The same baby who could not be killed by a king is the Savior could not be held by the grave. Easter deserves as much celebration as Christmas.

I hope this newsletter finds you and your loved ones well. My prayer is Easter will be a season of salvation and restoration. Please feel free to reach out to me with questions or needs!
