

Why do you think Paul feels the need to tell believers to “put to death what is earthly” in them?

Do you agree with this definition, “Idolatry is turning to something other than God, in order to get only what God can give.”? Why or why not?

How is the “new self” being renewed in knowledge after the image of its creator (3:10)?

Do you agree; that the only dividing influence in a church is one’s choice to be divisive (3:11)? Why or why not?
