

FOR BEGINNERS

Bible Discovery

Youtube is great, but there's a lot of junk out there about the Bible that's frankly, just not worth your time. Bible Discovery is not one of those. They offer trustworthy reflections and studies on every section of the entire Bible.

Lumo Project

There are lots of "Bible" shows out there that paraphrase the Bible or take creative liberties that distort God's Word. The Lumo Project is a stunning visual experience where the actual gospel stories are read out loud, word for word in a Hollywood-level reenactment. Watch this if you want to "read" the Bible in a whole new way.

The Bible Project

This as an accessible way to quickly grasp how books of the Bible and major themes fit together and point us to Jesus - highly recommended.

Spark Bible

Let's face it...the Bible isn't easy to understand. Spark Bible is a free online Bible with embedded hyperlinks to illuminating sermons and explainers from some of the worlds' best Bible teachers. Also available as an IOS app.

Faithlife Study Bible

Study Bibles are one of the most helpful tools out there for understanding and applying the Bible. Unfortunately, the good ones are usually very expensive. The Faithlife study Bible is an app and website that rivals the best study Bibles you can buy, at absolutely no cost!

FOR A DEEPER DIVE

NET Bible

Imagine being able to search the Bible like you can search the internet. The NET Bible is unique in several ways. First, it was designed by a team of translators and scholars at Dallas Theological Seminary to be the world's first (and only) Bible designed for the internet. So, you can "google" any word or theme and it shows you every place that comes up. Second, they provide you with helpful study notes to get into the minds of the Biblical authors.

Study Light

This website has a very good collection of Bible dictionaries, many of which you would normally have to pay for. Baker and Holman are very good in particular. Bible dictionaries are a good place to start when trying to learn more about a particular place, person, or concept in the Bible.

Blue Letter Bible

If you really want to mine the riches of God's Word, you'll want to learn to understand and interpret it for yourself. Inductive study is a great way to do that. Blue Letter Bible is a rich resource with tons of Bible study tools that will help you do just that.

Bible History

This resource has high-quality interactive maps, timelines and cultural background information that brings context to Bible study. This resource could be used as a supplement to studying the actual words of Scripture itself.

BibleProject App

There are apps to guide you through a city, or learning a language, why not one that walks you through how to see the connections and themes in Scripture? The Bible Project now has its own app! It's free and it will blow your mind.

Enter the Bible

This is a wonderful resource from Luther Seminary (another really good school) that provides concise introductions to every book of the Bible and lots of other resources.

GO TO BIBLE SCHOOL WITHOUT LEAVING YOUR LIVING ROOM

Below are libraries of classes and courses that are great for individual or group study.

Western Seminary's Video Library

Western Seminary is one of the country's leading Bible schools and they've created an entire library of courses in Bible, theology, philosophy and Christian living. These used to cost hundreds of dollars each, but are now free to the public!

The Bible Project Classroom

These are classes led by Dr. Tim Mackie, self-proclaimed "Bible Nerd" and creator of the Bible Project. These are incredible and you absolutely MUST experience them.

Biblical Training

This is a huge and growing library of Bible studies from the world's leading Christian scholars and thinkers made available for free! This is stuff that you normally have to enroll in seminary and pay thousands of dollars for!
