

Flower Mound United Methodist Church

WHERE ALL ARE HOLY LOVED AND LOVING WHOLLY

Winter/Spring 2024

Program Overview

Telling, Championing, Maximizing

These three words form our goals as a church for 2024.

Developed in alignment with our leadership and conference, we believe God's call for us is to be:

Telling our Story

Championing Children and Youth and

Maximizing Care and Healing

As you read through this discipleship brochure, you will see the one thing all of these three words have in common: "ing." All three of these goals require action. The opportunities in this brochure reflect a faith that is moving, growing, changing, and never stagnant. Some programs offer renewed ways of study, some are continuing opportunities that already impact lives, and some are completely different ways of growing in faith than anything that has been done before. Where will your actions be this new year?

Will you be found in one of our new Lenten Mission Challenges, gathered with a group on a Saturday morning? After you have just delivered new homemade bunk beds to children in a Lewisville apartment, you sit with your fellow movers, reflecting on what you have just experienced. Remembering the smiles of the children that no longer have to sleep on the floor, you also recall this was the only furniture in the house. It brings to mind the words of the prophet Micah you are studying this week, and his call towards hope in holy obedience. Suddenly, you have a new way of telling your Christian story.

Or perhaps you hear a request for support in our children's Easter egg hunt, and though you've never volunteered in a children's ministry event before, you feel a nudge in your heart to help. When you arrive at the church on a Saturday morning, you are amazed to see the back lawn filled with hundreds of children from our neighborhood area laughing, playing and experiencing the joy of a Christian community. You meet new people who are looking for a church home, you see the church coming together for a common purpose of hospitality, and you recognize the value of championing children for the future of the church.

Or perhaps you heard the sermon series on "Faith after Doubt" in January. You realized that some of those lingering doubts gnawing at you, didn't have to be ignored anymore. This was a place you could be honest and open about what those were. So you attend one of the new opportunities formed from the series and hear you are not the only person who felt this way. What relief! What a balm! What new hope you feel instead of the former shame these doubts created. This is a place where you feel care, and healing is starting to happen in your life. Perhaps you could be a part of maximizing this kind of care for others? Maybe you will even invite your friend who you know is going through the same type of doubts for next week's session.

It may be one of these scenarios that becomes your story this new year. Likely it will be something completely different, but I pray that as you consider how God is calling you to grow in your discipleship this year, you will be a part of the action! Take a look in the brochure and pray over what God is inviting you to be your "ing" in 2024.

I look forward to hearing your story of the new year.

Sr. Pastor

PROPHETIC PURPOSE

Lent, the church season preceding Easter, commemorates Jesus' 40 days in the wilderness when he wrestled with temptations (Matt. 4:1-11). It is a season designed to reflect upon what one must give up in order to follow Christ.

But this Lent, we won't be talking about giving up the temptation of chocolate.

This Lent, we will be giving up the temptations of idolatry, oppression and arrogance.

This Lent, we will be studying the Hebrew prophets, and a holy obedience giving us new purpose individually and corporately.

The prophets call to care for the poor, to practice fair economics, to resist idolatry and provide for the widow are often what we "do" as Christians, but do we understand the prophetic purpose behind them? How does our confession and repentance connect with these actions? How do these actions inform our understandings of God's kingdom on earth? This Lent we will uncover the depth of the prophets call for our purpose today, and how it connects to being followers of Jesus. Each week, we will study one prophet and his message, and how it relates to Jesus ministry.

But this is not just about learning: genuine prophetic purpose requires action.

So each week, we will be challenging you to engage in a mission of serving neighbor in community. Each challenge will be tied to the weekly prophetic call, and include reflection through the spiritual practice of journaling and small group conversation.

The entire series will allow us to understand the "why" behind our call to feed the hungry, provide for the poor and work towards greater justice for the oppressed. As we study the various prophets, they will lead us into the necessity of repentance for issues of human pain, but also the faithful love of God on which we depend for our empowerment toward change. This year, we will connect confession and repentance to a renewed call of obedience and faithful action in the steadfast love of God.

Connecting the minor prophets with the ministry of Jesus, this series will lead us through Biblical discovery and deepen our member's prayer life for related concerns. Worship will offer confession, repentance, and passing of the peace, as well as testimonials of transformation through mission work. Mission challenges will offer group reflection time, as well as personal journaling reflection. As we will listen well to one another, God's prophetic purpose for our future as a church together will be revealed.

Monthly Opportunities | All Ages

Kyle's Place with Journey to Dream is the only youth transitional living campus in Denton County for teens ages 14-19. Our church supports this work through hosting events for the teens, collecting needed supplies + sending volunteer teams for events + projects. From summer tutoring to teaching basic life skills on Thursday afternoons to volunteering to drive teens to jobs or appointments, there are many ways to help these teens have more security + support!

TAPESTRY OF LOVE

Seasonal Opportunities | All Ages

Help create a sense of home through sewing + crafts. This group takes on projects that help others. From face masks to sensory boards for individuals with Alzheimer's to sewing classes for the Kyle's Place teens, creativity is only limit to what's possible.

Adult Sunday School Classes

Elevate | 10:45am | Youth Rm

Come be a part of a new group that will meet weekly and include fellowship and growth through study and service. The first few weeks, the group will be working together through a study that helps new groups Biblically define who they want to be. You are invited to be a part of the group's initial conversations and creation.

Serendipity | 9:30am | Room Library

This multi-generational group meets weekly to share leadership consisting of everything from Biblical studies to various theological topics, and more.

Cornerstone | 9:30am | Room C8

This lecture and discussion based class seeks to tackle the tough problems we face day in and day out by sifting through the Bible.

Sojourners | 9:30am | Room C2/4

One of the church's longest standing Sunday School Classes, this class ranges from lecture style to discussion based on the topic and series. Lead by a Steering Committee, you're sure to meet some friendly folks to sojourn in the faith with.

Connections | 9:30am | Room C10/12

Made up of singles and parents ranging in age from middle-school to empty nest, this welcoming group is discussion based, often sharing facilitation roles. They study a variety of topics and are thankful to grow together in faith. We also enjoy spending time together outside of Sunday mornings. All are welcome!
