Luke 10:36-37: "Which of these three, do you think, was a neighbor to the man who fell into the hands of the robbers?" 37[The lawyer] said, "The one who showed him mercy." Jesus said to him, "Go and do likewise."

A Note from Pastor Jasmine Smart

Fred Rogers made his mark on this world in a lasting and powerful way through his show, Mr. Rogers' Neighborhood. PBS currently has a show called Daniel Tiger that takes its inspiration from the original show, which ran from 1968-2001. Fred's lovely song, "Won't you be my neighbor?" jingles in our heads whenever the question of being a neighbor comes up. I remember seeing an episode of Mr. Rogers and Police Officer Clemens washing their feet together in a kiddie pool on a hot day. I didn't think anything of it and it wasn't until later that I realized that the episode, from 1969, was challenging racial segregation since Officer Clemens was black.

I also learned in seminary that Mr. Rogers was an ordained Presbyterian pastor. His care for children was powerful as he sought to provide quality educational television for them and the adults in their lives too. Summertime is a great time to be neighborly: many of us are out in our yards, planting and beautifying our spaces and being friendly in a casual way is pretty easy. But the type of neighborliness that Jesus talks about, that we should love God and love our neighbors, is incredibly difficult. The Samaritan's actions of putting aside his own tasks for the day and taking care of the vulnerable stranger, showing him mercy, compassion and saving his life, that takes sacrifice from us.

Even at the end of his life, Fred Rogers is said to have wondered if he had fulfilled what Christ asks of his followers: to care for the hungry, thirsty, naked and strangers among us as if they were Jesus himself: in the kingdom of heaven those who do this are known as the sheep, and those who do not are known as the goats. Mr. Rogers wondered to his wife, "Am I a sheep?" Most of us seeing his legacy would answer, of course! But it encourages all of us to keep expanding our spheres of influence, to do all we can to see the image of God in each person around us. That type of neighborliness is a challenge, but with God's help, we can all make a lasting difference.

INFORMATION ON TODAY'S SERVICES

About the Music: The text for the processional hymn was written by Adam M. L. Tice. Tice was born in Pennsylvania, and grew up in Alabama, Oregon, and Indiana. After graduating from high school in Elkhart, Indiana, Adam went to nearby Goshen College, a Mennonite liberal arts school. He majored in music with an emphasis on composition and completed a minor in Bible and religion, graduating in 2002. He began working as a church musician and choir director while still in college. He was Associate Pastor of Hyattsville (Maryland) Mennonite Church from 2007 to 2012. He now lives with his family in Goshen, Indiana. He is text editor for the 2020 Mennonite hymnal, Voices Together. In early 2020 he joined GIA as Editor for Congregational Song.

The text of the sermon hymn was written by The Reverend Fred Pratt Green (1903–2000), a British Methodist minister and hymnodist. Born in Roby, Lancashire, England, he was ordained as a Methodist minister in 1928 and served circuits in the north and south of England until 1969. During his career as a minister, he wrote numerous plays and hymns. After he retired he began writing prolifically. His hymns show his concern with social issues.

The text of the recessional hymn was written by John Ernest Bode (1816 – 1874), an Anglican priest, educator, poet, and hymnist. He wrote "O Jesus I Have Promised" for the occasion of the confirmation of his two sons and daughter in 1869. The hymn tune was written in 1881 by Arthur Henry Mann (1850-1929), who served as organist and choirmaster at King's College, Cambridge, famous for its choral music.

Musicians: Terry Farmer, tenor; Melody Wootton and Sonia Lee, violinists; David Enos, organist.

PRAYERS OF THE PEOPLE AND THE LORD'S PRAYER

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come, thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors, and lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil, for thine is the kingdom and the power and the glory, forever.
