Our Response

- 1) Why is restoration the goal and not ridicule or rejection? What does it mean to restore someone?
- 2) How is confronting the sin of other believers different from Jesus' command, "Do not judge" in Matthew 7:1?
- 3) Why are some examples of how one might "carry one another's burdens"? What might hinder this from happening?
- 4) What is the difference between burdens and loads and why is this important?
- 5) Why the caution that we examine ourselves first? How do you do this?
