

Prayer of Trust

LORD, my LORD,

Who am I among such a vast number of people on the earth? Am I to be consumed by them and their wicked ways? Or am I among their number? They value power, pride, recognition and everything that makes them accepted by the values of this world.

Am I a remnant of your people? Or do I deceive myself by the luxuries and material goods that present themselves on all my devices. Buy more, buy now, never enough. More power, more control. Will I ever be satisfied?

By: Todd Jerdon

You give and You take away, and You give back again. Blessed be Your Name, LORD God. Even what seemed to me as evil, You use for my good.

All that my heart longed for, You took away. You did this for my good. A heart refining fire. You purify me by cutting off my supply, idols that made me feel secure. In all of this, You, LORD, have been faithful. You prod my heart to trust in You. Renew my dependence in You alone as my provider.

LORD, my LORD, you are enough.

Amen.