Daniel Prayed

VERSE

The Word of God,
the Bible, lasts forever.
1 PETER 1:25

PRAY for Everything

Remind your child that Daniel loved God and thanked God in his prayers (see reverse side). Say simple sentence prayers throughout the day. Thank God for toys, food, flowers, vehicle, house, pets, furniture, clothes, and different people. Help your child learn that praying is something that can be done anytime and about anything.

TALK on Toy Phones

Show your child the Bible story picture (reverse side) as you review the Bible story. Comment that Daniel prayed, or talked to God, every day. Have a conversation with your child through the toy phones. Within the conversation, say the Weekly Verse: "Call to Me, and I will answer. Jeremiah 33:3."

Ezekiel Offered Hope

Based on Ezekiel 37

Ezekiel was a prophet; he listened to God and spoke or wrote the words God told him.

One day God took Ezekiel to a valley. God gave him a vision to help Ezekiel understand how God would help His people. The valley was full of bones.

God told Ezekiel, "Speak to the bones. Say that God will make the bones live again."

Ezekiel did what God told him to do. He heard a sound. The bones began to shake. The bones linked together and became men!

God said, "Tell the men to breathe."

Ezekiel did what God said. The men were alive! They were an army.

God said, "The people are worried, but I will help them. The people will live in their land again. I have spoken, and I will do it."

God told Ezekiel to hold two sticks together in front of the people. The sticks joined together to form one stick instead of two.

God said He would bring the people back together like the two sticks that Ezekiel held together. God told the people, "I am your God."

Ezekiel Offered Hope

Ezekiel 37

The prophet Ezekiel was sad. Soldiers had taken Ezekiel along with 10,000 other Israelites captive in Babylon. The people had lost their homes and their hope.

God gave Ezekiel a vision. Ezekiel was awake during his vision, but God showed the prophet something He wanted to do for Israel. He brought Ezekiel to a valley full of brittle, dry bones. God asked, "Son of man, can these dry bones live?"

Ezekiel told God that only He would know. God said, "Speak to these dry bones. Say, 'Dry bones, hear the Word of the Lord! God says He will give you breath. He will give you flesh and skin. Then you will know that He is the Lord!'"

Ezekiel did what God said. As Ezekiel watched, the bones began to rattle and come together. Skin covered them, but there was no breath in the bones.

Then God told Ezekiel, "Say this, 'Breath, come from the four winds. Breathe life into these bodies so they will live!'" Ezekiel followed God's instructions. The bones came to life and stood like an army!

God explained, "These bones are like the people of Israel. The people have said, 'Our bones are dried up. Our hope is lost.' But I will bring all of you back into your own land. Then you will know that I am the Lord. I have spoken, and I will do it!"

God told Ezekiel to write on a stick: "This stick belongs to Judah and his kingdom, the people of Israel." Then God told Ezekiel to write on a second stick: "This stick belongs to Joseph and his kingdom, the people of Israel."

God told Ezekiel to hold the sticks together in one hand so they would become one single stick. God explained that He would bring the two kingdoms together, and they would be one nation again. God promised that He would take them back to their land just as He had promised and live there with them. He would be their God, and they would be His people.
