About the event

Nalani was founded by Cherry Tapley, who is scheduled to be the speaker at our next women's brunch on September 28th.

Come experience a hike through the beautiful trails of Alanwood Farm, home of Nalani Horse Rescue. Alanwood is a 240 acre farm; the hike will wind you through the property and along Broad Run, and you'll end up at the site of Nalani where you will get to meet Teddy and all of the Nalani horses and enjoy a cold beer from Lost Rhino Brewery. *Everyone 21 and over will get one free beer ticket.

The hike is just under 5k and will take approximately an hour, but there will be an optional short cut. Either way, the wooded path will take you along scenic fields with horses. Kool Zone Food Truck will be on-site. **Although we love our dogs, we ask that you leave them at home for this event for the safety of everyone including the horses. Thanks!

***Event is rain or shine unless weather is dangerous. No refunds. All proceeds go to Nalani Horse Rescue, a 501(c)3 charity.
