Scripture Reading Luke 17:11-19 Jennie Gibson
NLT

¹¹ As Jesus continued on toward Jerusalem, he reached the border between Galilee and Samaria. ¹² As he entered a village there, ten men with leprosy stood at a distance, ¹³ crying out, "Jesus, Master, have mercy on us!"

¹⁴ He looked at them and said, "Go show yourselves to the priests." And as they went, they were cleansed of their leprosy.

¹⁵ One of them, when he saw that he was healed, came back to Jesus, shouting, "Praise God!" ¹⁶ He fell to the ground at Jesus' feet, thanking him for what he had done. This man was a Samaritan.

¹⁷ Jesus asked, "Didn't I heal ten men? Where are the other nine?" ¹⁸ Has no one returned to give glory to God except this foreigner?" ¹⁹ And Jesus said to the man, "Stand up and go. Your faith has healed you."

Borderlands

Ryann Brown

(inspired by Luke 17: 11-19)

Ever-present God, you meet us in the borderlands, in places neither here nor there, at times when we are well out of our comfort zone; even if we don't know where we're going, when we feel most lost, you are there:

Thank you, God.

You meet each of us where we are, and many of us in our need, people marginalized by illness, not wanting to be a burden, those who see their poverty or problems as unacceptable – feeling rejected – with faltering self-worth.

Thank you, God.

It was in the borderlands that Jesus met a band of lepers, whose livelihood was begging, whose status was untouchable, and touched their lives with hope.

And it was the Samaritan, the one most of all an outsider, who turned back to give thanks.

We thank you for all we can learn from our sisters and brothers who live on the edge, in poverty, in the borderlands: about gratitude, grace and healing hope.

Thank you, God. Amen.
