The two disciples heard what John said about Jesus and followed Jesus. Jesus turned and saw them following him and said to them, "What are you looking for..." they said to him, "Master where are you staying?" He said, "Come and see." So they went where he was saying. ... Then Andrew went to his brother Peter and said, "We have found the Lord." —John 1:35-42

Two things: I must hear and I must act. The two disciples could just have let the words of John go over their heads, but they acted—they followed and then accepted his invitation to come and see. Daily Jesus invites me to follow him. What is my response to him? Do I have the courage to respond? Am I willing to give him my whole being? To let him use me as he wishes? Lord, I speak about you with credibility as Andrew did to Peter...and when others speak to me about you, may I listen as Peter did. —Sr. Dominic Dybel
