Transforming Worship

In many instances believers approach worship based on the spiritual climate around them. The type of songs being sung and the energy of the congregation becomes a key factor in whether worship will be enthusiastic or simply another uninspiring worship attendance. When our lives are going well, we express exuberant praise, we become engrossed in worship. But when we are challenged by life our praise grows quiet. These differing approaches to worship can be likened to a thermostat or a thermometer.

Scripture reminds us that our worship should not be determined by our surroundings but by the unchanging character of God. The psalmist declared, "I will bless the Lord at all times; His praise shall continually be in my mouth" (Psalm 34:1, KJV). Transforming worship flows from a heart that recognizes God's sovereignty, faithfulness, and worthiness regardless of external conditions. It is rooted in conviction rather than convenience. Transforming worship could be likened to a thermostat and not a thermometer. Thermostats do more than respond to the environment, it influences and changes its environment.

As children of God, we should seek to be more like a thermostat and not a thermometer. In Matthew 5:14-16, Jesus instructed His followers to be “the light of the world,” illuminating every area of their lives with His presence. Likewise, as worshipers we should enter God's house with hearts full of gratitude, expectation, and reverence inspiring others to lift their eyes toward heaven. As we gather each week, Ivory and I invite you to not just reflect the spiritual temperature around you. Instead, prepare your hearts before you arrive to the sanctuary and let's set the atmosphere for transforming worship.

The Path to Salvation

God created us to have a personal relationship with Him, a relationship that was broken by sin. Yet, everyone can restore this relationship through the gift of salvation. 1 John 1:9 says, "If we confess our sins [to God], he is faithful and just and will forgive us our sins and purify us from all unrighteousness." You can get started with this prayer:

"Dear Lord Jesus, I know that I am a sinner, and I ask for your forgiveness. I believe You died for my sins and rose from the dead. I commit my life to You as my Lord and Savior and invite You into my heart. This I pray in your Holy name. Amen."
