Highland's Strategic Plan Summary, 2026-2028

Under the direction of the Ministry Council, the Strategic Planning Committee convened a year-long planning process that included: two church-wide Congregational Conversations, interviews with current and former staff and lay leaders, surveys, ministry group feedback, as well as expert counsel from the Center for Congregational Health and Reputation US.

Many positive attributes of Highland Baptist Church were affirmed through this process:

- outstanding worship experience and music programs
- vibrant Bible study opportunities for children, youth, and adults
- welcoming, inclusive congregation that serves as a healing haven for many
- variety of ministry groups that offer opportunities for service within and outside the congregation
- a wealth of knowledgeable, passionate, talented members looking for ways to serve
- history of showing up for social justice

The three-year plan identifies goals in five strategic areas. Responsible parties and timelines are included where possible. The Ministry Council has approved the plan and will provide oversight of the ongoing implementation.

The over-reaching goal of the plan is to ensure that Highland has the leadership, financial stability, and processes to continue to thrive as a progressive voice as we follow the teachings of Jesus and express a faith that brings healing and affirmation for vulnerable people in our community and within our congregation.

Thank you to the Ministry Council, the Strategic Planning Committee, staff, and the congregation for all the work that went into this.

Quarterly Church Conference This Sunday

Plan to join us this Sunday afternoon, January 25, at 4:00 PM on Zoom for our Quarterly Church Conference. Topics to be covered include a report from the Pastor Search Committee, a report from the Finance Ministry Group, and an update on the Strategic Plan. Check your email on Friday for the Zoom link and meeting agenda.

Confidentiality of Donor Giving

For the past two years or so, the Finance Ministry Group has been researching and discussing the issue of internal donor confidentiality. This has been mentioned at previous Quarterly Church Conferences (QCC). For decades, the practice of the church has been that the amount of a donor's gifts has been strictly confidential (with the exception of the church's financial secretary).

However, research has revealed that this practice is significantly "out of step" with like-minded churches. It appears that many churches have a practice of "restricted access" to donor records. For example, some staff members (senior pastor, church administrator, etc.) have access to giving information. Generally, this is on a need-to-know basis and often may be in aggregate form, such as a list of donors who give between $5K – $10K annually. Such information is helpful to certain staff in a variety of ways.

It is the feeling of the Finance Ministry Group that Highland would benefit from this more up-to-date practice, and we plan to implement it later in 2026. To be clear, here are some specific examples of how this is anticipated to be implemented at Highland:

- Only the Senior Pastor will have this information, and any change in practice or need-to-know request will be first communicated to the Finance Ministry Group for transparency and their discernment.
- The information will not be specific numbers, but rather broad categories of households in ranges of $5,000, up to $25,000.
- The Financial Secretary will begin informing the Senior Pastor whenever someone makes a first-time contribution to the church (but will not disclose the amount), so that the pastor can send a note of thanks.

Our outgoing Financial Secretary (Kathleen Gordon) has attended the monthly Finance Ministry Group meetings and has been a part of this discussion as well. See this letter for her thoughts and words of support.

Donors will still have the option of requesting that their contributions be strictly confidential and such requests will be honored. Those wishing to "opt out" and remain strictly confidential can email the Financial Secretary (Accounting) and Comptroller (Lauren Swim) at any time, and in future pledge seasons there will be a way to express this on the form. Please reach out to any member of the Finance Ministry Group with any questions or concerns. We also plan to share this information again at the QCC on January 25.

Spiritual Exercises from Sunday's Sermon

For those who heard Sunday's sermon, here is a seven-day spiritual exercise you can try.

Philippians 4:8-9

"Finally, beloved, whatever is true, whatever is honorable, whatever is just, whatever is pure, whatever is pleasing, whatever is commendable, if there is any excellence and if there is anything worthy of praise, think about these things. Keep on doing the things that you have learned and received and heard and seen in me, and the God of peace will be with you."

- Day One: Consider and be mindful of what is "true."
 - So, for example, when told you "have to have the new Bel Air," you can say to yourself, True or False?
- Day two: Consider and be mindful of what is "honorable."
 - Is the way I am speaking to the assistant or the convenience store clerk "honorable"?
- Day three: Consider and be mindful of what is "just."
 - Am I treating people fairly today?
- Day four: Consider and be mindful of what is "pure."
 - Is what I'm watching, reading, listening to, something I would want God or my mother to see or hear?
- Day five: Consider and be mindful of what is "pleasing."
 - Does this bring me joy?
- Day six: Consider and be mindful of what is "commendable."
 - Does this build me up?
- Day seven: Consider and be mindful of what is "excellent and worthy of praise."
 - Am I doing anything to set my sights higher?
 - Is what I'm doing today taking me any closer to God and the person God wants me to be?
