

The Week of:

Sept. 25, 2024

What's your life like:

When it comes to laundry, are you a hang it up and put it away kind of person? Or grab it out of the laundry basket kind of person?

What are we talking about this week:

Main Point of Message:

- We are called to community.

Bible Verses

- Hebrews 10:25; Philippians 2:4

Discussion Questions

1. In your own words, talk about the difference between being "around people" from being "in community"?
2. When it comes to relationships, friendships, and community why do you think it's so important to show up? Can you think of a time when people showed up for you when you really needed it?
3. Why do you think it's important to listen up? In what ways can you grow as a listener?
4. We all have stuff that's really hard to open up about. Why do you think it's important to open up about those things? Is there anything you would like to open up about today?

Now what:

- Commit to showing up every week, practice asking questions and listening up so people feel known and cared for, and before next week, come to small group prepared to open up about one thing. Whether that's an insecurity, struggle, fear, or just something you want help or advice with.
