How did Paul feel about being a servant of God? In what ways does his mindset about being a servant of God inform us of how we should think about being called to serve God?

Because of the gospel, Paul walked in humility. What about the gospel leads us to humility rather than pride? How can believers regularly cultivate humility in our lives?

Why do you think Paul's aim in his preaching was to preach Christ? Why is the faithful, regular preaching of the unsearchable riches of Christ a healthy diet for the church? What does this tend to accomplish in our lives as believers?

In what ways does the church show the manifold wisdom of God? Why do you think God would choose the church as the vehicle to convey His wisdom? How should this change how we live as believers in our local church?

How does verse 11 remind us of God's sovereignty in redemption? Why should this encourage us as believers today?
