Happy New Year! New Year's Day is my favorite holiday of the year. I used to say I am not sure why, but I know exactly why. First of all, growing up, it was the only day all year long that I could watch football all day. But, now things are different because every weekend in the fall you can watch college football from the beginning of the day to very late.

New Years football is fun, but over the years the holiday has become something much more special. The weeks leading up to it has become a time of reflection, goal setting, and prayer. I review the previous year going over the most significant events, the holy moments, and even the hard moments. I ask God about the areas I need to change, do better and build upon. I make lists to remember lessons and to give thanks. On New Years Day, I prepare for the year. I am one that still makes resolutions and sets goals.

I know that many may scoff at resolutions these days. The joke is that we break them, and break them quickly. I have probably broken more resolutions than I have kept but some of those resolutions have profoundly shaped my life. Two years ago, I made the resolution to read the Bible using "Bible Recap" and to preach on it. This was one of the most formative practices I have ever experienced.

Last year I set a goal for my running and health as a challenge from my son, and I feel better than I have in 15 years. I have many times grabbed a hold of one key resolution that God used to make my life better.

So, today I encourage you to spend these first two weeks of the new year reflecting and surrendering 2026 to God. What did you learn in 2025? How did you see God move? How is God calling you to grow in faith and as a person in 2026? Ask God what goals and resolutions He wants you to make. And take some time to surrender 2026 to God. I will have a moment on New Years' Eve when I bow before the Lord and I will pray over all I love deeply: my wife, my family and my church, I will speak those words 2026 is Yours....to God be the glory!

One more thing....as I write this days before Christmas Eve, I cannot get out of my mind The Incarnation. I will list the lessons God has taught me about the Incarnation during Advent as one of my key moments of the year. The Incarnation is God coming to earth to dwell among us. Jesus came to make a way for all to be connected to Christ, and to be able to live forever in Heaven. It is a lot of wonderful! But it is even more than that. I read this poem by Charles Wesley on Christmas Eve. I will begin my new year reading it and will read it throughout the year. Below are Charles Wesley's profound statements about the 'Mystery of Godliness'

Stupendous mystery! God in our flesh is seen
(While angels ask, how can it be?"')
And dwells with sinful men!
Our nature He assumes, That we may his retrieve;
He comes, to our dead world He comes,
That all thro' Him may live.
(from the Unpublished Poetry of Charles Wesley Volume III, p106)

Jesus came so that we will live. But He also came to make it possible for us to take on some of God's nature. Wow! That is God's goal for all of us after we become believers. God wants us to take on His very character by allowing the Holy Spirit to work in our lives.

So friends, here is a resolution. What if you allow the Holy Spirit more time to work in you? What if you read your Bible daily? What if you participated in Holy Communion every Sunday? What if you prayed together with your church family once a month? How would your life be different? How would your life be better? How about you try it and see? What if?

January Pick

Dear Central Family,

Thank You

On behalf of the staff, THANK YOU for your generous gifts to the Christmas Staff Love Offering! "Santa" Rob had the pleasure of delivering 31 bonuses on Christmas Eve to some very appreciative and grateful staff!

We also want to thank you for your gifts toward the Christmas Eve Offering. This year marked the 13th time we have collected an offering at all our Christmas Eve services to specifically give away to various local, state and global missions and ministries that Central supports. This year we will be sending $5,000 EACH to Grace Food Pantry (Grace Chapel UMC in Rogers), H2O (Help-2-Others Food Pantry at Living Waters UMC in Centerton), TASC (Teen Action & Support Center in Benton and Washington counties) plus GRACES (Guatemalan Relief Assistance for Children's Education Services in Antigua, Guatemala). That is $20,000 in total support!

Over the last 13 years Central has had the great pleasure of distributing $274,349 in financial support to help groups helping others!

Thank you Central!
