

Along the Way FPCSA Photo Contest Spotlight

Congratulations to Our August Winners!

People Category Winner: Charlotte Milner
Berean's Sunday school class: "Breaking Bread" (and tortilla chips) together at Los Barrios. This photo captures a moment of fellowship and friendship, highlighting the joy and spiritual growth that emerge from shared moments in everyday settings.

Nature Category Winner: Kathy Timberlake
God shows up even in the mess and muck of life. While helping to clean out cabins at Camp Mystic on July 11, I stepped outside to catch my breath and wipe away tears. This heart-shaped tree stump was at the doorstep of one of the cabins I had stayed in as a camper in the early 1970s. It looked old. Had it always been there? I wondered if anyone else noticed this symbol of love as they walked in and out of this cabin each day, each week, each summer. As I paused to take a picture, my own heart was lifted. God shows up—even in the mess and muck of life! "We love, because He first loved us." 1 John 4:19

About the "Along the Way FPCSA" Photo Contest:

Theme:

Finding God's presence in the ordinary—whether it's through nature, a simple act of kindness, or a smile from a friend.

How to Participate:

- Submit your photos at bit.ly/AlongTheWayFPCSA.
- Look out for weekly theme ideas in the Traditional Bulletin and share where you see God in your everyday moments!

Prizes:

- Monthly winners receive an interactive scripture armband from Zox, a Texas company dedicated to creating meaningful wearables from recycled materials.
- Winning photos will be displayed in our church hallways and featured in the church magazine and congregation-wide email.
