Nominees for Pastoral Nominating Committee (PNC)

Jinda Bowerman Married for 26 years and mom to 2 young men, I committed to following Jesus 38 years ago and, by God's grace, stepped through CHPC's doors for the first time 18 years ago.
I'm proud to be a part of a community that so deeply loves one another and Jesus, and I'm excited to help out in whatever way is needed. I consider it a humbling honor and a sober call of duty to join the PNC to discern whom the Lord is prompting to fill the role of Head Pastor. "In Him all things hold together" is my life verse. – Col 1:17

Pam Dollard I came to a personal faith in Christ in my teen years through Young Life and the influence of my brother. I have been involved with various churches since that time, mostly at CHPC. After some years away, my husband Pat and I were drawn back to CHPC because the church had changed in ways that were appealing, including a denominational realignment. Although we will miss Pastor Drew when he leaves, I believe God has good things in store for CHPC as part of the larger work of building His kingdom. I would like to be part of the process of ushering in the new leadership. I often lean into Ephesians 2:10: "For we are God's handiwork, created in Christ Jesus to do good works which God prepared in advance for us to do."

Chris Dumford My half-century history at CHPC includes my baptism (as a child), wedding (to Janet), ordinations (as Deacon and Elder), and involvement in numerous ministries and committees. I am currently most visibly seen jamming on my acoustic guitar in the worship band. In my church community, I have been shepherded, encouraged, mentored, instructed, convicted, consoled, and blessed. The depth of my deep roots with this gathering of believers is only matched by my excitement for the future that God will choose to unfold as we "trust in the Lord" and "never cease to bear fruit" (Jeremiah 17:7-8).

Rev. Ken Elu My walk with Christ began in the Presbyterian church, Afikpo, where an early quest to know the power of the resurrected Christ led to my transformation and commitment to Him as personal Lord and Savior. I was ordained at age 25 as a minister of the word and sacraments by The Presbyterian Church of Nigeria. In 2010, I found a vibrant church home at College Hill Presbyterian Church (CHPC). Since then, I have joyfully participated in worship, growth groups, the choir, the Session (3 years), and the CNC (5 terms). My wife, Nitha and I are happily married and blessed with four adult children and eleven grandchildren, including Jah'maya and Bryson, who attend CHPC with their mother, Nakeisha. My brother-in-law, Mr. Anthony Trimm, has frequently joined us for worship.
As I serve on the Pastor Nominating Committee (PNC), my prayer for CHPC is that we grow as a diverse community united in humility and deeply connected to the Holy Spirit. Together, rooted in love, may we fully grasp the unimaginable width, length, height, and depth of the love of Christ.

Ann Klusmeier My family includes my husband, Mark, three adult children, a son-in-law, and one grandchild. Yes, I have pictures.
I was raised in the Catholic tradition and attended Catholic services in my early years. While I can't remember a time when I was not a Christian, I truly started living into my faith when I joined College Hill Presbyterian Church 1992. Since then, I have served in many capacities most recently as a Trustee Administrator, on Nominating Committee (CNC) and as an Elder. Recently I've been studying how in one verse God calls us adopted sons and daughters and, in another verse, He calls us friends. I realized that is a description of my relationships at CHPC. I am so honored to serve God and you my friends and my fellow adoptees
John 15:12-17

Robyn Russell Hi, CHPC family! I am honored to be nominated for PNC, to help guide, support, and inspire our church body through this transitional phase. I've been attending CHPC since 1977. I've served in many ministries throughout the years: Children's Ministries, deacon, Strategy for Mothers, small groups, search committees, and even was blessed to be on the CHPC staff part-time for a few years. I am looking forward to the future of CHPC. Change is hard but our God has already set the course. He's GOT THIS!
Ted & I recently celebrated 33 years of marriage. We have 2 grown children: Kendra & Jacob (who is married to Haley). We adore our grandkids; Zoey & Frankie Jo and enjoy family time with all of them.
Philippians 3:13-14

Bill Sheid I have attended CHPC for over 38 years, met and married my wife Colleen here and raised our 3 boys here. We live/minister in the neighborhood and love to share in ways that CHPC engages with and serves the community around us. I came to know Christ at a young age in Chicago through youth programs and camp, which has fueled my desire to serve with our Sunday School, Youth and Tutoring ministries. Lately, Colleen and I have been actively involved in marriage-strengthening ministries. I'm encouraged to see how God will lead us in these next years as we continue to live out our Identity to honor God as a growing, diverse community of Jesus followers.
